

2024

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Fairfax
County
Parkway Trail
Virginia

Fairfax County Parkway Trail

Virginia

The Fairfax County Parkway Trail parallels Fairfax County Parkway/State Route 286 on its route across Fairfax County,

The Fairfax County Parkway Trail parallels Fairfax County Parkway/State Route 286 on its route across Fairfax County, Virginia. While the paved trail varies in width and condition, most of the trail is usable for walking, biking and inline skating. The trail connects to many other community trails and side paths along its route, as well as the popular W&OD Trail near Reston and the Cross County Trail in West Springfield.

The southernmost segment from Newington to Fort Belvoir is disconnected from the bulk of the pathway, and there is another gap in the trail near Fairfax Station. The latter can be bridged by using the Ox Road Sidepath and another short path along Burke Centre Parkway.

Fairfax County Parkway Trail

Virginia

States: Virginia

Counties: Fairfax

Length: 28.3miles

Trail end points: Algonkian Pkwy./SR 1582 and Cupleaf Holly Ct. (Great Falls) to Fairfax County
Pkwy./SR 286 and Backlick Rd. (Ft. Belvoir)

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike,Inline

Skating, Wheelchair Accessible, Walking

Parking & Trail Access

You can access the Fairfax County Parkway Trail wherever the road itself intersects another road. There are no official parking areas for the trail.

