

2025

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Humbug-Willow Creek
Trail
California

Humbug-Willow Creek Trail

California

The Humbug-Willow Creek Trail shows community at its best, offering plenty of sights, sounds, and activities as it snakes through

The Humbug-Willow Creek Trail shows community at its best, offering plenty of sights, sounds, and activities as it snakes through the city of Folsom. The trail is embedded within a greenbelt that runs through the heart of the city, preserving natural habitats while providing an easily accessible escape from city life. Segments of the trail are set in open, rolling grasslands; further southwest, the path provides a vantage point from which to observe the colorfully diverse fauna and flora of wetland ponds. Railroad tracks emerge seemingly out of nowhere and then disappear behind trees.

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com

Humbug-Willow Creek Trail

California

States: California

Counties: Sacramento

Length: 15miles

Trail end points: Econome Family Park at Blue Ravine Rd & Parkway Dr (Folsom) to Willow Creek Recreation Area at Folsom Blvd, near Natoma Station Dr (Folsom)

Trail surfaces: Asphalt, Boardwalk

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike, Inline Skating, Wheelchair Accessible, Walking

Parking & Trail Access

Parking is available in the many parks along the trail route, including at Econome Family Park, at Phillip C. Cohn Park, at Cummings Family Skate & Bike Park and at Amos P. Catlin Park.

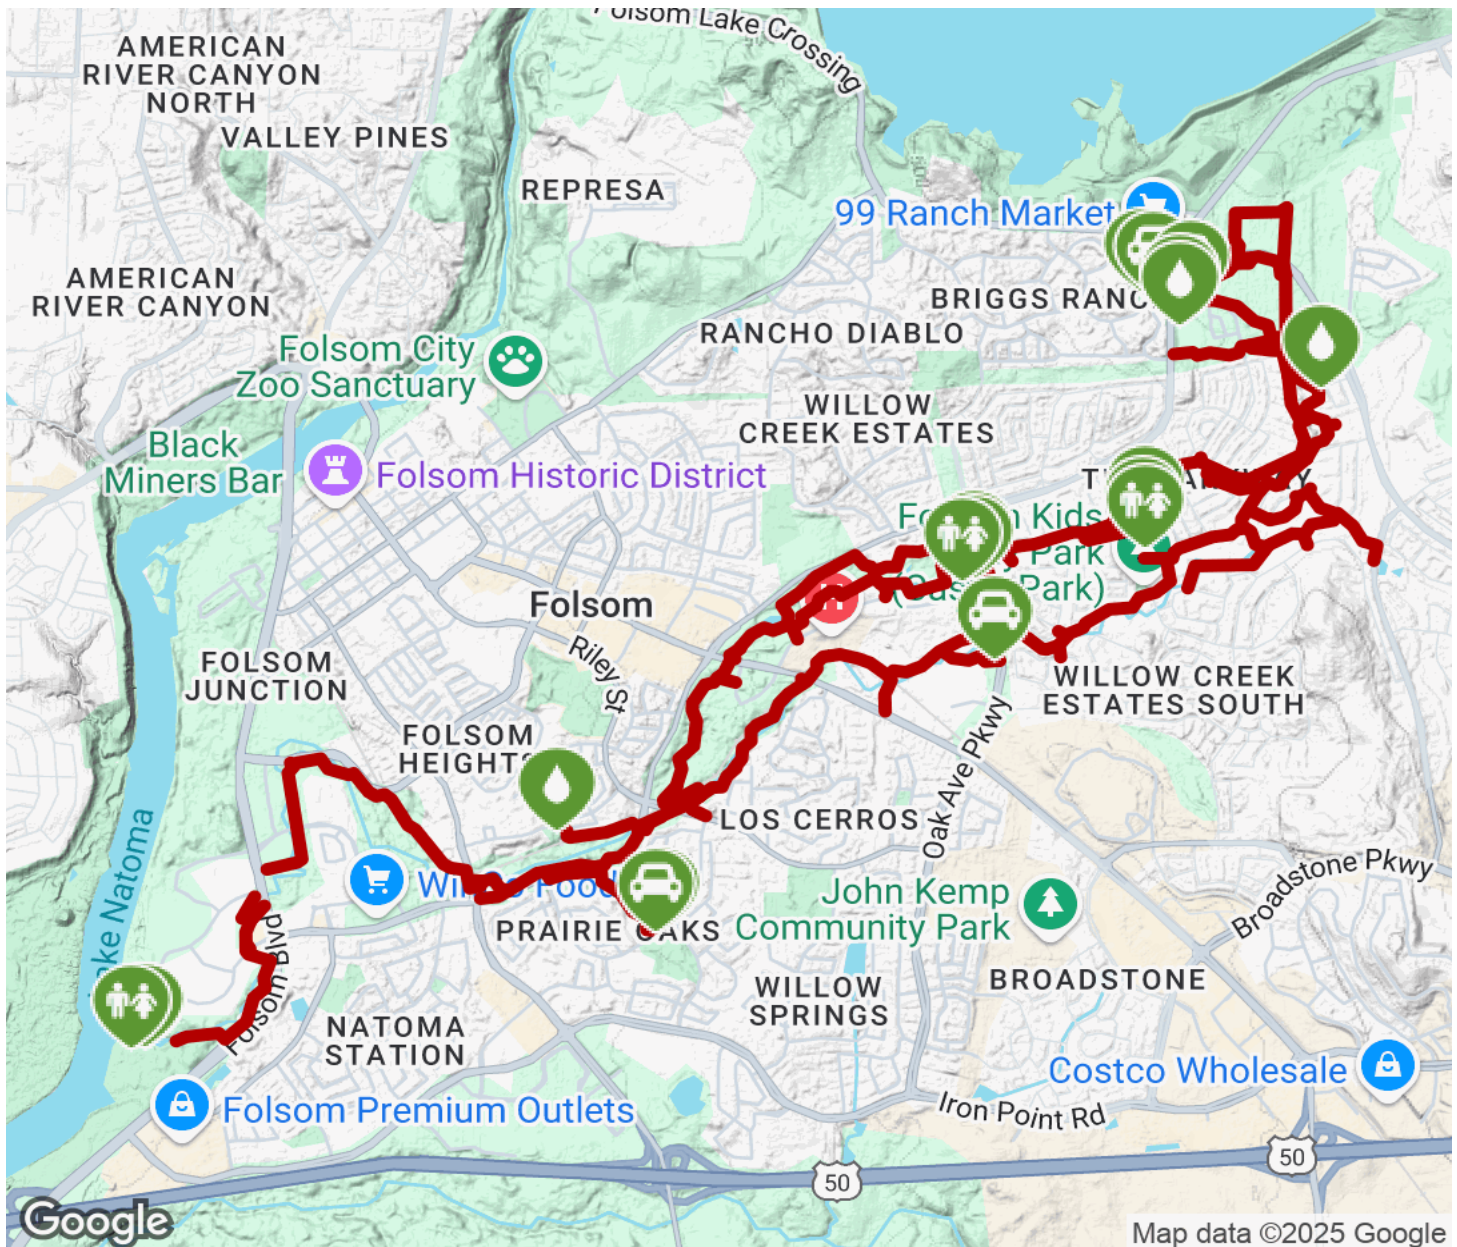

Parking is available at the southern end of the trail at the Willow Creek Recreation Area. Day-use parking fees apply. Check the California Department of Parks and Recreation website park fees page for more information.

Visit the TrailLink map for all options and detailed directions.

Humbug-Willow Creek Trail

California

-  Trailhead
-  Restroom
-  Parking
-  Water Fountain
-  Tunnel