

2025

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Glenwood Canyon Recreation Trail

Colorado

Glenwood Canyon Recreation Trail

Colorado

Overview The Glenwood Canyon Recreation Trail is a 15.5-mile trail that follows the winding course of the Colorado River between also see plenty of people floating on this stretch of river, which also shares the corridor with Interstate 70.

Connections

In Glenwood Springs, trail users can hook up with the Rio Grande Trail, which heads south and east to Aspen.

Overview

The Glenwood Canyon Recreation Trail is a 15.5-mile trail that follows the winding course of the Colorado River between Glenwood Springs and Dotsero. The paved trail is easygoing and heavily used by outdoor recreationists of all pursuits. The trail is closed in winter and sometimes into the spring when the water level in the Colorado River is high. There are plenty of resting areas, as well as picnic sites, restrooms, and fishing access points.

About the Route

Along this scenic trail through the river canyon, trail users may spot wildlife, including a band of bighorn sheep introduced into the area in the early '90s. Trail users will

Glenwood Canyon Recreation Trail

Colorado

States: Colorado

Counties: Eagle, Garfield

Length: 15.5 miles

Trail end points: Two Rivers Park, 740
Devereux Rd. (Glenwood Springs) to I-70
(Gypsum)

Trail surfaces: Concrete

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike, Inline

Skating, Fishing, Wheelchair

Accessible, Walking

Parking & Trail Access

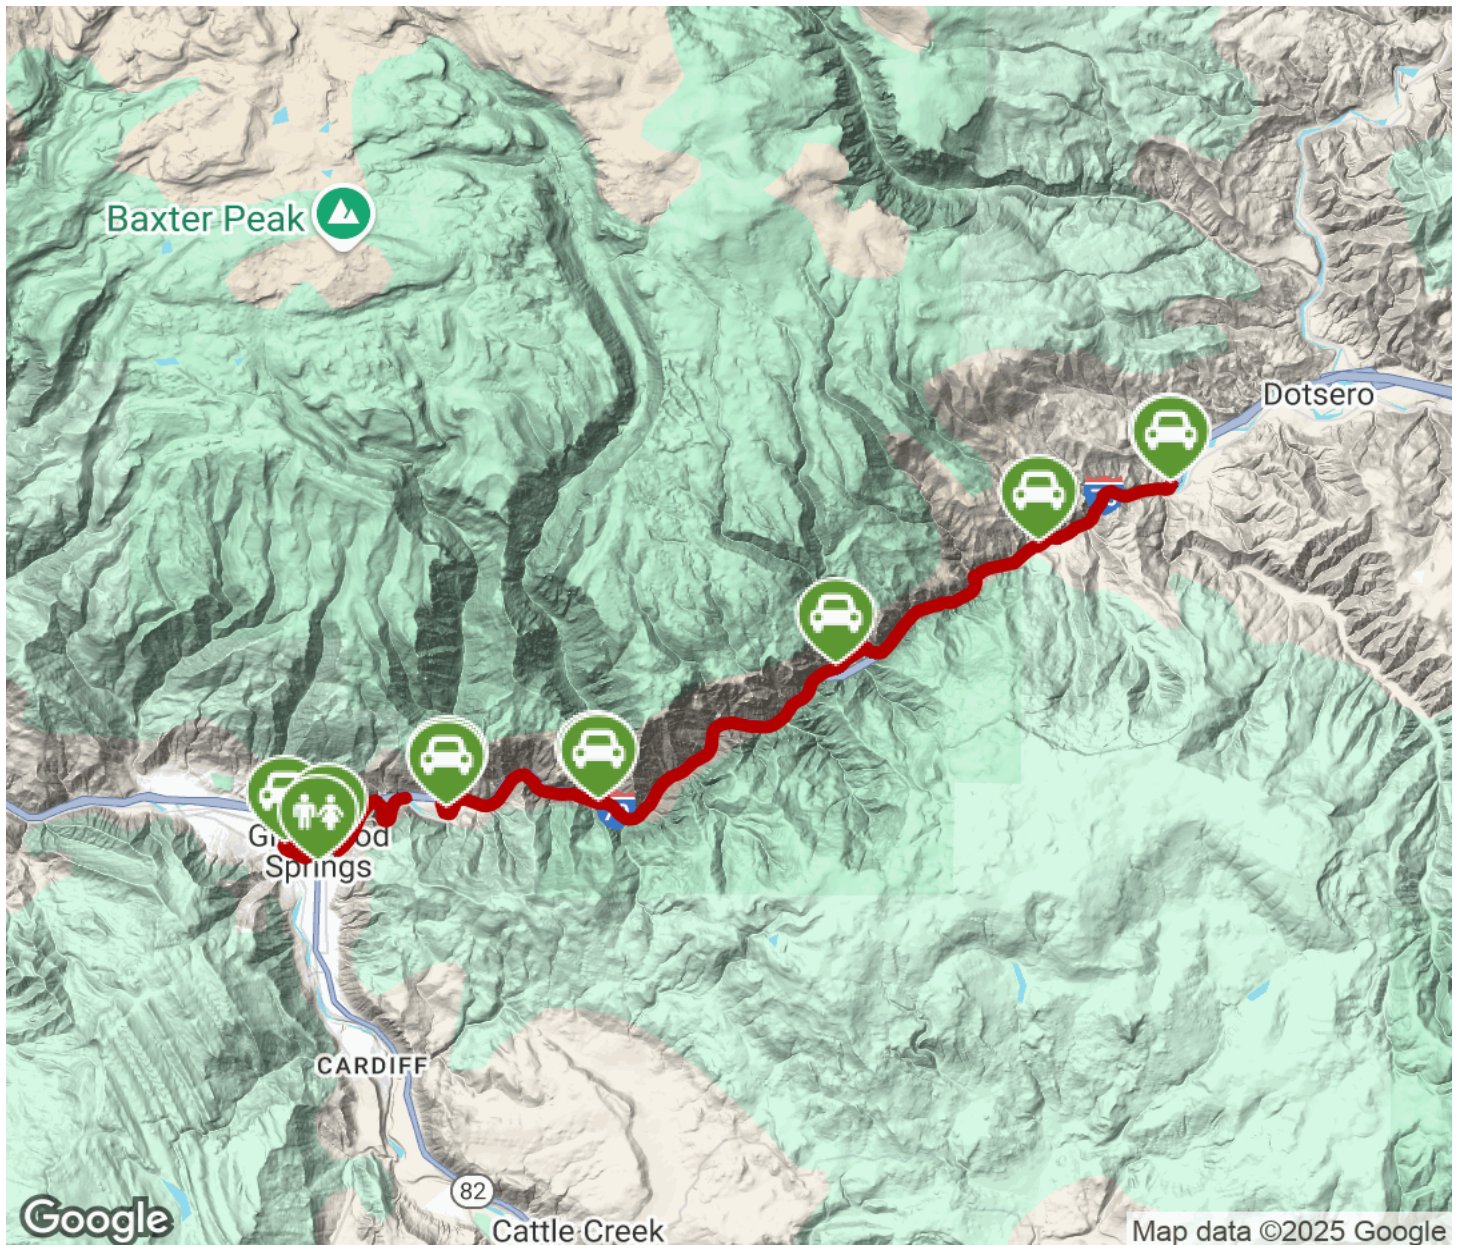

The Glenwood Canyon Creation Trail runs between Two Rivers Park, 740 Devereux Rd. (Glenwood Springs) and I-70 (Gypsum), with parking available on both ends.

Please see TrailLink Map for all parking options and detailed directions.

Glenwood Canyon Recreation Trail

Colorado

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com