The Prairie Sunset Trail is located west of Wichita and runs between S. 295th Street in Garden Plain and S. Hoover Rd. The trail is pretty straight, occupying a portion of the old rail bed that once carried the Cannonball Stage Line, although there is a park loop in Goddard. The trail passes through a wooded corridor traveling through farmland and by ponds and creeks. The trail surface is primarily crushed limestone with some pavement. Food services are limited near the trail, but there's a lovely park at Goddard with restroom and picnic facilities.
