Highway 237 Bikeway

California

The Highway 237 Bikeway parallels State Route 237 between McCarthy Boulevard in Milpitas and Calabazas Creek in trail encircling San Francisco Bay.

The Highway 237 Bikeway parallels State Route 237 between McCarthy Boulevard in Milpitas and Calabazas Creek in Sunnyvale. The trail consists of two main segments: the first is between McCarthy Boulevard and Zanker Road (on either side of the highway), and the second is between N. First Street and Calabazas Creek, crossing from the south to the north side of the highway at Lafayette Street. Between N. First Street and Zanker Road, you can follow dedicated bike lanes on Holger Way.

The trail also provides direct access to several other popular trails in San Jose, including the San Tomas Aquino Creek Trail, Guadalupe River Trail, Coyote Creek Trail and San Francisco Bay Trail. A portion of the Highway 237 Bikeway is actually part of the latter trail system, a developing effort to create a 500-mile multiuse
