

2024

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

San Diego
River Trail
California

San Diego River Trail

California

The San Diego River Trail is a network of paths that lead along the San Diego River channel and mud flats and provide access to remain, several sections are already completed. For fun or exercise, this path links to well more than 20 miles of paths around the beaches and bay, which keeps you almost completely on a path and off traffic-clogged streets.

The San Diego River Trail is a network of paths that lead along the San Diego River channel and mud flats and provide access to Mission/Fashion Valley shopping areas. You can walk or ride on either side of the river via the Sunset Cliffs bridge, or the bridge closer to the Qualcomm Stadium.

The trail is excellent for wildlife viewing; bird watchers from all over the county come to snap pictures, and get good sightings and light for an array of wildlife. Fish are always jumping, eagles and hawks are often flying with live catches in their talons or beaks, and the tides make sure the visit is never the same twice.

The Trail is part of a vision of a 55-mile long corridor of trails and paths following the San Diego River. While gaps

San Diego River Trail

California

States: California

Counties: San Diego

Length: 6miles

Trail end points: Volaire Street (at the Ocean Beach Bike Path) to Qualcomm Way at Camino De La Reina

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike,Inline Skating,Fishing,Wheelchair Accessible,Walking

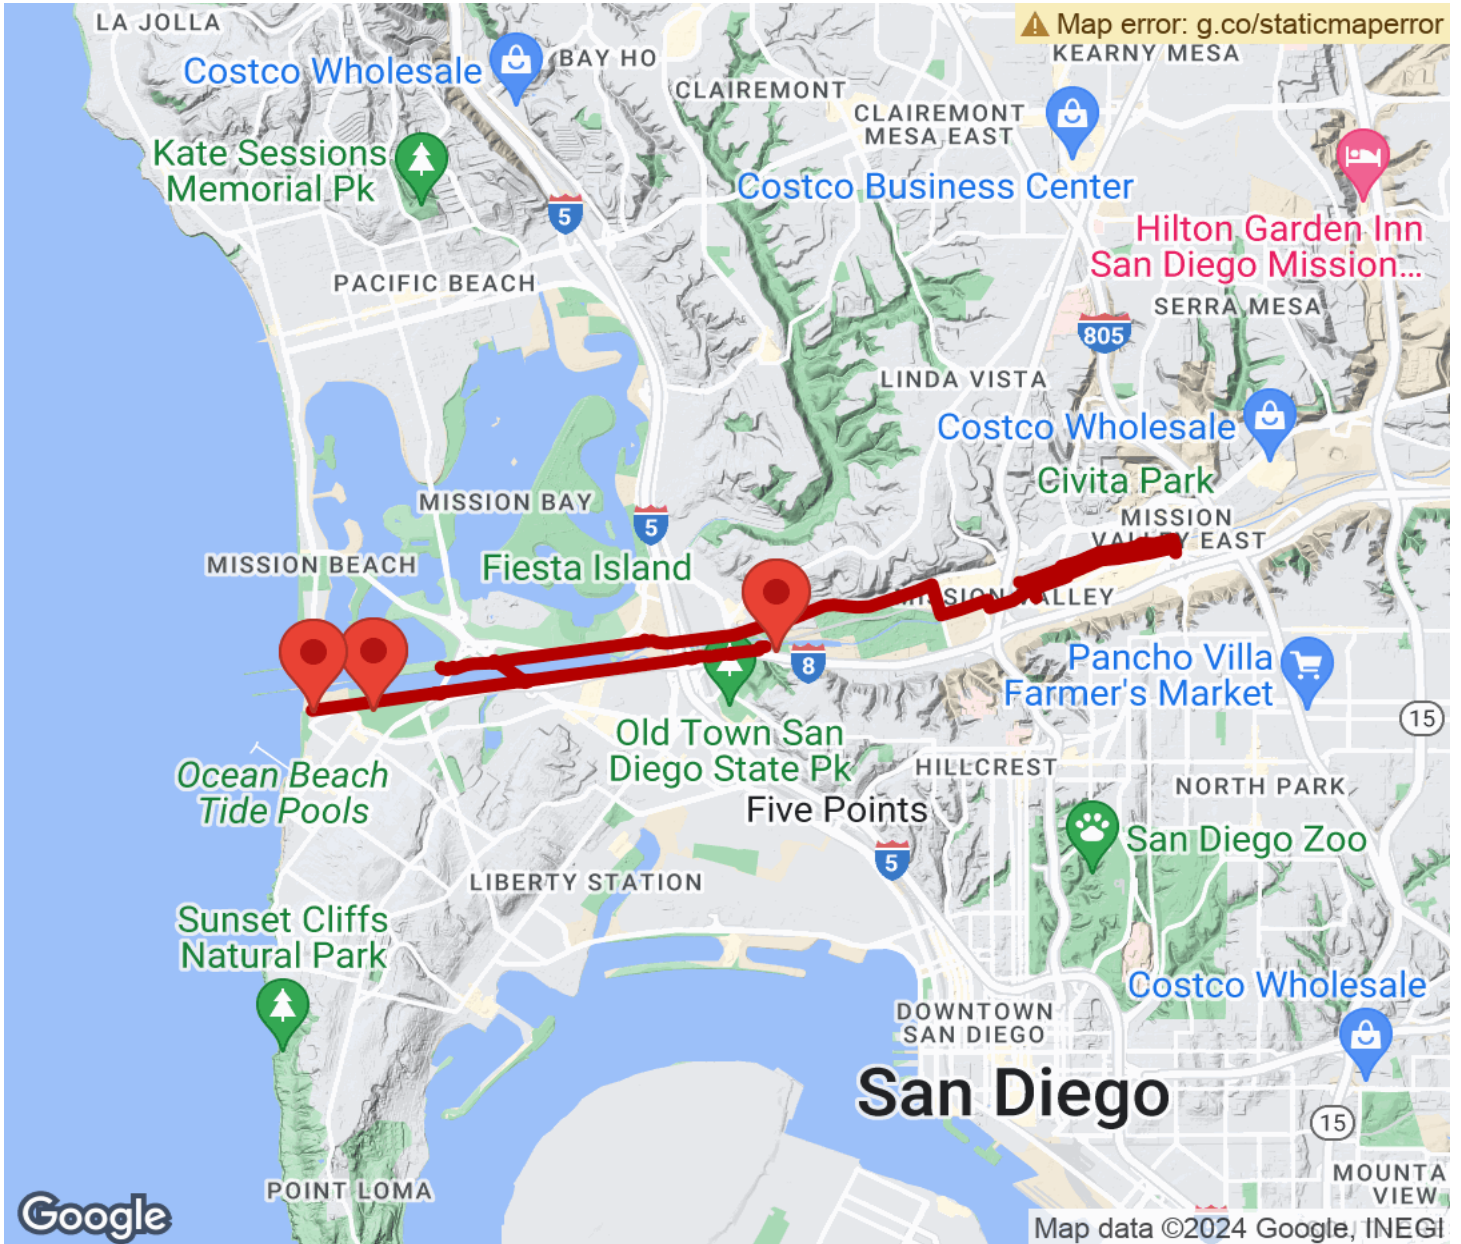

Parking & Trail Access

On the east end, park at the ball fields at the end of Hotel Circle Place. On the coast, park Ocean Beach Dog Beach parking area (end of West Point Loma Blvd.) and at Ocean Beach Athletic Area (Bacon St.)

San Diego River Trail

California

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com