The Fall Creek Trail provides a short, east-west route across southern Keller, a growing city in the Dallas/Fort Worth area. The trail begins at Tarrant Parkway and travels east through residential areas to Rufe Snow Drive. Trail-goers should use caution when crossing this intersection. Soon after, the trail connects with the path along Little Bear Creek, if you wish to head north or south. This portion of the trails provides lovely views in a natural, tree-lined setting.
