Oklahoma City's Bricktown Canal Trail follows the manmade waterway south through a historic warehouse district and new development. The trail, which is designated for pedestrian use only, provides easy access to the shops and restaurants of the vibrant Bricktown District. Just off the path is the Chickasaw Bricktown Ballpark, home to the OKC Dodgers, the city's minor league baseball team.

A recent extension to the pedestrian pathway takes trail users under a newly-constructed portion of Interstate 40 and an active railroad line to Regatta Park and the Oklahoma River. Here, a direct link to the Oklahoma River Trails allows trail users to continue their journey westward along the river.
