The short Castaways Trail has expansive views of the mountains, ocean, Upper Newport Bay and Newport Harbor. Much of the 1-mile path runs along the bluffs in Castaways Park and the trail offers several overlooks to take in the scenery. Both tails of the trail end at Dover Drive, so travelers can make a loop by continuing along the roadway, passing by Bob Henry Park along the way.

Parking & Trail Access

From the Pacific Coast Highway (State Route 1) in Newport Beach, take Dover Drive uphill to Bob Henry Park on Castaways Lane (on right). This area provides access to the trail, as well as parking, restrooms and drinking fountains. There is another small lot across Castaways Drive and fronting on Dover Drive. The start of the trail is at the far end of this lot. Another option is to ride uphill on Dover Drive to the other end of the trail at Dover and Westcliff Drives.
