The I-515 Trail runs through eastern Las Vegas, providing a useful alternative route along the busy highway, which is also known as US 95. This pathway starts downtown, off N. Maryland Parkway, and winds through commercial and residential areas with distant views of the mountains.

Midway, the trail stops at the southwestern corner of the upscale Desert Pines Golf Club, before picking up again at Stewart Avenue and running to E. Charleston Boulevard.

The final segment begins at E. Sahara Avenue and travels to E. Flamingo Road, not far from the neighborhood shopping centers of Sandhill Square and Paradise Marketplace.
