Nestled in the northeast corner of St. George, the Slick Rock Trail is a short neighborhood path with views of desert landscaping and distant mountains. The trail begins at a junction with the Slick Rock Park Trail in the scenic park of the same name, which offers rock climbing boulders for children, restrooms and a picnic area. The route then parallels E. Riverside Drive and travels north to reach the trail loop in one of the city's largest parks, 2450 East Park, which offers facilities for volleyball, basketball and other sports.
