The South Avenue Trail is a paved path that parallels Missoula's busy South Avenue and provides a safe alternative to riding in the road. The path runs for a little more than 2 miles between Old Fort Road just west of US 93/Reserve Street and Humble Road. The path runs east-west on the south side of the road. It links to a network of other on- and off-road trails on Missoula's west side, all of which provide a safe route for crossing town. At Target Range School, the path actually veers into the parking lot in front of the school then picks up again on the other side.

At the east end of the trail, head south onto the Fort Missoula property (well signed at the CCC Rd./ Guardsman Ln.) to visit the Historical Society Museum and grounds at Fort Missoula.
