Located in beautiful Sinnemahoning State Park in Pennsylvania, the Lowlands Trail uses the former corridor of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad. The trail and park are now part of the tour development area known as PA Wilds.

The Lowlands Trail provides good access to the regions natural areas rich with wildlife habitats, including Bald Eagle as well as Elk. The Park offers interpretive tours along the trail and can be contacted for their latest schedule. (Not to be confused with another Lowlands Trail at Chapman State Park near Allegheny National Forest)
