One of a handful of trails following the White River in Indiana, Carmel's White River Greenway parallels the scenic waterway for much of its journey through the eastern part of the city. Along the way, you can enjoy wooded areas, newer subdivisions, and River Road Park. The 62-acre park offers nature trails, athletic fields, a playground and opportunities to fish and boat on the water. The White River Greenway also connects to the White River Loop which provides local trail access.
