Michael Michaud Walking and Biking Trail

Maine

When the Bangor Aroostook Railroad extended its line through Millinocket, it opened up development and the town prospered,

After crossing the stream, the trail loops around the back of Sterns High School and parallels the stream to Forest Avenue. After crossing Central Street for a second time, the trail runs along Ash Street and Millinocket Stream. As Ash Street ends, the trail picks up on a path around Granite Street School. At Granite Street, turn right to cross Millinocket Stream and right again on the path through Crandall Park back to your starting point.

When the Bangor Aroostook Railroad extended its line through Millinocket, it opened up development and the town prospered, primarily due to the paper industry. In recent years, the area has become a four-season tourist destination, due to its proximity to Mount Katahdin and Moosehead Lake. This trail was named by the Town of Millinocket for Maine Second District Congressman Michael Michaud, in recognition of his service to the region.

The Michael Michaud Walking and Biking Trail is a 1.65-mile loop on both sides of Millinocket Stream. Dedicated in 2011, the trail is paved with asphalt and features good signage which directs you around the loop. A walk or bike ride on the trail along the waterway is a refreshing experience any time of the year.
