Overview

The Northern Strand Community Trail runs almost 10 miles through the cities of Everett, Malden, Revere, and the town of Saugus and provides a variety of experiences.

About the Route

Access the rail-trail's southern end from the South Lawn (1 Broadway, Everett), a park on the shores of Mystic River. Following the shoreline through the park, a 10ft-wide multiuse riverwalk with a stone-brick and paved asphalt surface provides a connection to the Northern Strand Community Trail and the Malden River Greenway. From the connection with the riverwalk and the rail-trail, the Malden River Greenway follows its namesake northwest through Gateway Park to Village Landing Park. From its southern end connection with the riverwalk and the greenway, the Northern Strand Community Trail heads north through Everett.

In Everett, you'll soon see signs of the revitalization that is sweeping through both Everett and Malden. Many new high-end residential and commercial buildings, as well as adjacent parks, are under construction next to the trail. A few new brewpubs are located a few blocks off the trail in Everett, which some locals refer to as the fermentation district. Local planners and community leaders are doing an impressive job of integrating the rail-trail into this new development, providing opportunities for many lifestyles and business pursuits. Like most communities in the Boston area, drivers are courteous when approaching marked crossings, but it doesn't hurt to be cautious. As of June 2023, the section under Revere Beach Parkway is paved--creating a smooth, continuous route for pedestrians and cyclists to safely bypass the busy thoroughfare above.

In about 1 mile, you'll reach Malden, where the smells from an adjacent bakery and coffee plant come as a wonderful surprise. Notice the well-cared-for community gardens featuring vegetables that reflect the neighborhood's diversity. Another mile farther on the left, you can visit America's largest model train store, which features an operating display on the second floor. At this point, you can see how several restaurants are reorienting themselves by constructing decks and extensions to the trail.

Also notice the gas pipeline markings on the asphalt trail. Many rail-trails do double or triple duty as they share space with utilities. At MA 60 and Beach Street—1.5 miles from the train store—you can choose from several doughnut shops. This area also has lots of free trailside parking. A few more minutes after passing US 1, the trail opens wide to the Pines River Marshes, part of the Rumney Marsh Reservation in Saugus.
