Endor Iron Furnace Greenway

North Carolina

Endor Iron Furnace Greenway runs along Big Buffalo Creek on the west side of Sanford, which sits about 40 miles southwest of Raleigh.

Endor Iron Furnace Greenway runs along Big Buffalo Creek on the west side of Sanford, which sits about 40 miles southwest of Raleigh. The paved trail begins at Kiwanis Family Park, which offers a playground and picnic tables. From there, it meanders north for a little over a mile to end near Douglas Drive. Within easy reach of the trail, you'll find shopping, restaurants, and entertainment.

As its name implies, the trail is planned to link to the Endor Iron Furnace, a historical site from the Civil War that lies along the Deep River. Other hopes include expanding the trail east to Central Carolina Hospital and the city's downtown.
