Gary Shell Cross-City Trail

North Carolina

Gary Shell Cross-City Trail

North Carolina

The Gary Shell Cross-City Trail connects the Wilmington campus of the University of North Carolina with the City of Wilmington's

Summer Rest Trail, which features a nicely wooded path that ends at the waterfront.

The trail is primarily urban, so there are a number of restaurants, coffee shops, and two excellent bike shops along the route.

Connections

The Gary Shell Cross-City Trail connects to the River-to-Sea Bikeway at Empie Park.

At Military Cutoff Rd., the trail is just a short distance away from the Military Cutoff Trail.

The Gary Shell Cross-City Trail is part of the developing East Coast Greenway, a 3,000-mile route between Florida and Maine.

The Gary Shell Cross-City Trail connects the Wilmington campus of the University of North Carolina with the City of Wilmington's many recreational attractions, including Halyburton Park, Empie Park, McCrary Park, and Wade Park, providing important off-road connections across a wide swath of the coastal city.

About the Route

The trail route totals 15.8 miles in total; most of the route is a wide, paved asphalt pathway, although some sections utilize narrower sidewalks - fortunately, the city has marked the trail route on street signs to help users navigate. The 17-acre park offers scenic wetlands, a picnic shelter, a playground, and restrooms. On the opposite end of the trail, the northern terminus shares a route with the
