Salmon Creek Greenway Trail

Washington

The Salmon Creek Greenway Trails runs for 3.9 miles between NW 36th Avenue and Salmon Creek Park. The paved trail follows

Salmon Creek, bringing the trail to its eastern endpoint in Salmon Creek Regional Park and Kline Pond. As the trail approaches the park, the route goes around the park's softball fields and then meanders to Kline Pond.

The Salmon Creek Greenway Trails runs for 3.9 miles between NW 36th Avenue and Salmon Creek Park. The paved trail follows Salmon Creek through a slice of Vancouver's nature lands.

About the Route

The western endpoint of the Salmon Creek Greenway Trail sits at NW 36th Avenue just after NW 138th St and follows the outskirts of a residential neighborhood before entering Cougar Canyon. Here, the paved trail forks off, and the right end of the fork dead ends into a neighborhood, with the middle fork segment continuing straight for a short while before also reaching a dead end.

The lefthand, or top segment of the fork, continues along
