Freedom Trail Bikeway

New Jersey

Freedom Trail Bikeway will eventually be a 10-mile route linking parks and open spaces throughout South Brunswick Township in Road to Route 1. About a mile west from the preserve are two other rail-trails to explore: Kingston Branch Loop Trail and the Delaware and Raritan Canal State Park Trail.

Freedom Trail Bikeway will eventually be a 10-mile route linking parks and open spaces throughout South Brunswick Township in northern New Jersey. The trail follows a former rail line through woodlands, wetlands, and neighborhoods.

Currently, two short disconnected sections of the trail are complete in these communities of South Brunswick:

- Monmouth Junction: A paved 1.4-mile pathway runs east from Stouts Lane, across New Road, then east and south to a parking lot on Ridge Road. Well-marked crosswalks have been added on New Road and Ridge Road to increase trail safety.
- Kingston: This is an unpaved 1.2-mile trail from Ridge
