

2026

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Cedar Key Railroad Trestle Nature Trail

Florida

Cedar Key Railroad Trestle Nature Trail

Florida

Cedar Key Railroad Trestle Nature Trail is on a small island off the coast of northwestern Florida about 60 miles from Gainesville, the

any case.

Cedar Key Railroad Trestle Nature Trail is on a small island off the coast of northwestern Florida about 60 miles from Gainesville, the nearest big city. The town of Cedar Key itself, with fewer than 1,000 residents, is a charming place with many historical buildings and a relaxed vibe.

The trail follows the rail line that once ran from Fernandia Beach to Cedar Key from 1861 to 1932. Though it's quite short (only 1,700 feet), the rail-trail offers walkers a pleasant, natural escape with native vegetation on all sides flush with birds and wildlife. At trail's end, a few old trestle posts poke up through the shallow bay, remnants of a bridge that once carried trains across the water.

Note that bicycles are not permitted on the path, but would not be well-suited with the trail's sandy surface in

Cedar Key Railroad Trestle Nature Trail

Florida

States: Florida

Counties: Levy

Length: 0.3miles

Trail end points: Grove Street (just off State Road 24) to East coast of Cedar Key

Trail surfaces: Dirt,Grass,Sand

Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Fishing,Walking

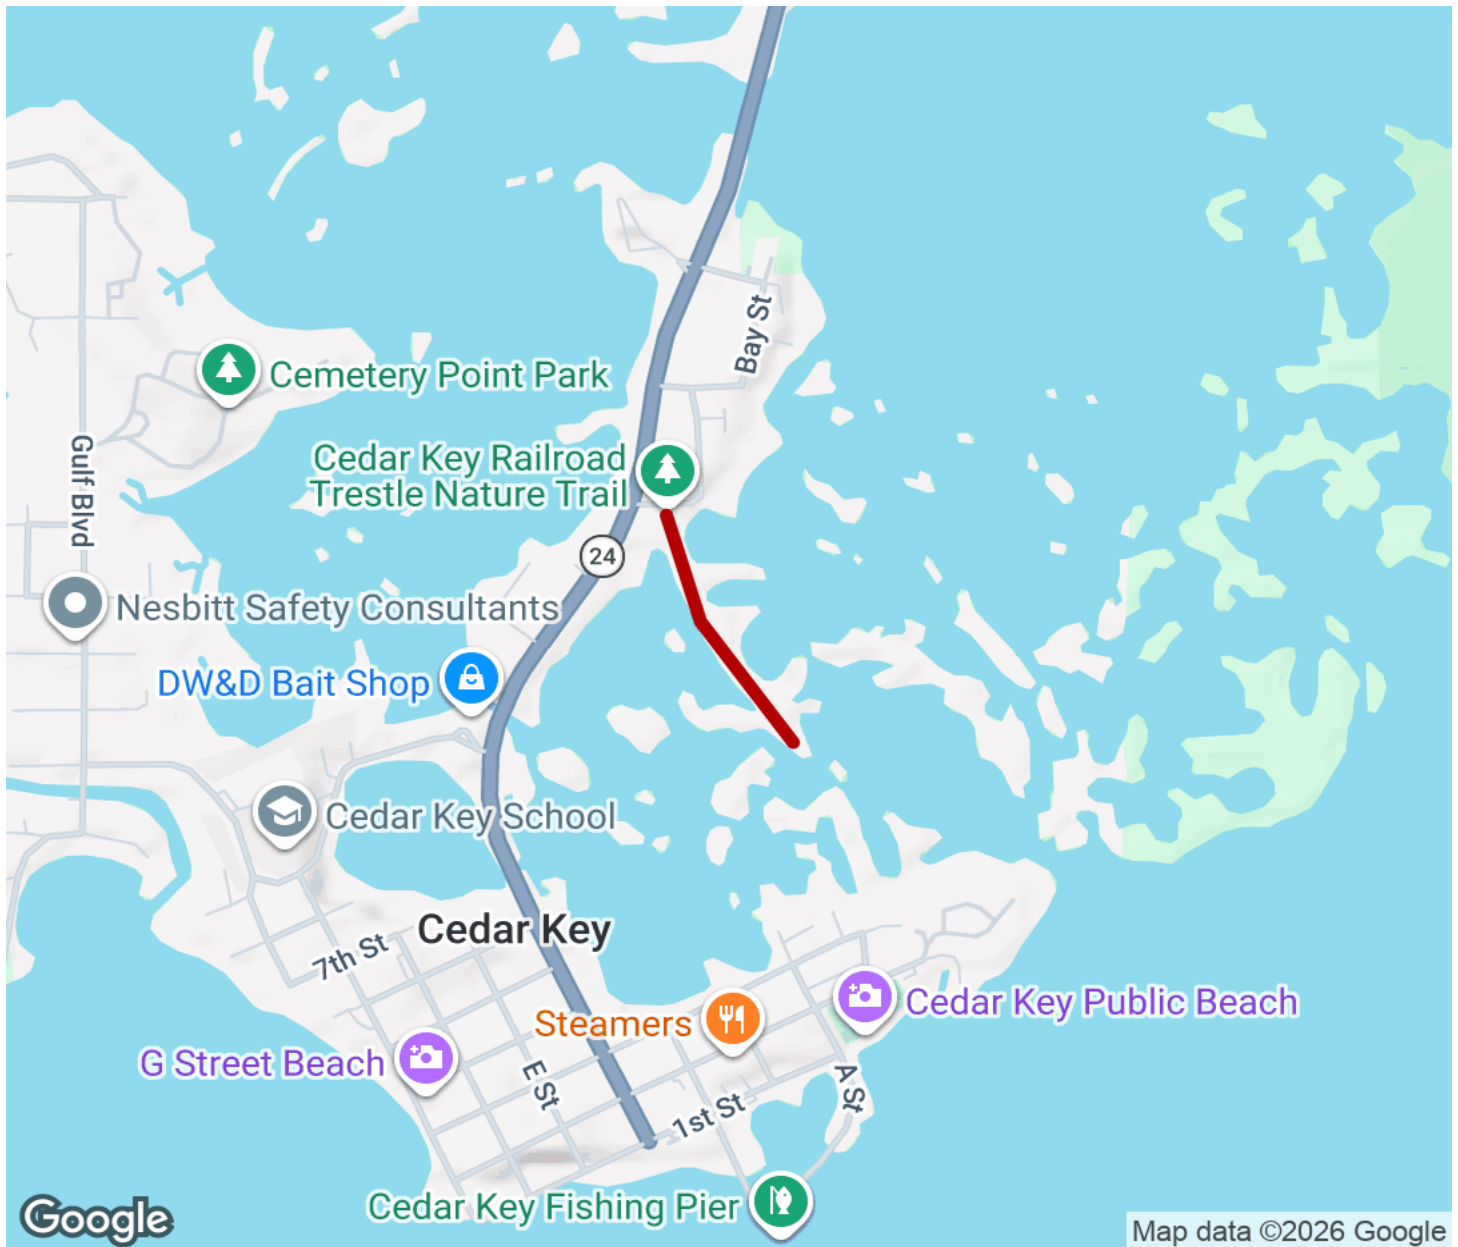

Parking & Trail Access

From State Road 24 southbound (approaching Cedar Key), turn onto Grove Road; a small parking area is immediately on the right at the trailhead.

Cedar Key Railroad Trestle Nature Trail

Florida

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com