

TrailLink UnlimitedGuides

Harpers Ferry Railroad Bridge Maryland, West Virginia

This rail-with-trail bridge crosses the Potomac River near its confluence with the Shenandoah River, at Harpers Ferry, West

This rail-with-trail bridge crosses the Potomac River near its confluence with the Shenandoah River, at Harpers Ferry, West Virginia. A cantilevered section of the bridge allows pedestrian access between Harpers Ferry and the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal National Historic Park (C&O Canal Towpath) and connects the Appalachian Trail from West Virginia to Maryland.

TrailLink.com

Parking & Trail Access

States: Maryland, West Virginia Counties: Jefferson, Washington Length: 0.14miles Trail end points: Appalachian Trail at Potomac St. and Shenandoah St. (Harpers Ferry, WV) to C&O Canal Towpath near Sandy Hook Rd. (Sandy Hook, MD) Trail surfaces: Boardwalk Trail category: Rail-Trail Trail activities: Bike, Walking

TrailLink.com

TrailLink.com