In the heart of Redmond, the Bear Creek Trail provides an important connection between two rail-trails. On its western end it connects to the Sammamish River Trail and on its eastern side to the Redmond Central Connector. The eastern section of the trail winds through Bear Creek Park, a lush oasis in the heart of town. The trail is pleasant and tree-lined as it winds along its namesake creek just south of Redmond Town Center, which offers shops, restaurants, and entertainment.
