

2025

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Apple Blossom Trail

Michigan

Apple Blossom Trail

Michigan

The Apple Blossom Trail connects the communities of Caspian and Iron River in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. It traces the banks of the

The Apple Blossom Trail connects the communities of Caspian and Iron River in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. It traces the banks of the Iron River (popular for trout fishing) and, for much of the way, closely parallels the 107-mile State Line Trail, which travelers may wish to hop on for a longer ride.

The area has a rich iron-ore mining industry dating back to the mid-1800s and history buffs will enjoy the trail's interpretive signage and proximity to the Iron County Historical Museum (100 Brady Avenue) at its southern end in Caspian. The paved pathway follows a route once traversed by trains carrying the ore from local mines to the steel mills of Chicago and Indiana.

Apple Blossom Trail

Michigan

States: Michigan

Counties: Iron

Length: 3miles

Trail end points: Brady Avenue, across from the Iron County Historical Museum (Caspian) to N. 4th Avenue and W. Sturgeon Street (Iron River)

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Bike, Fishing, Inline Skating, Walking, Wheelchair Accessible

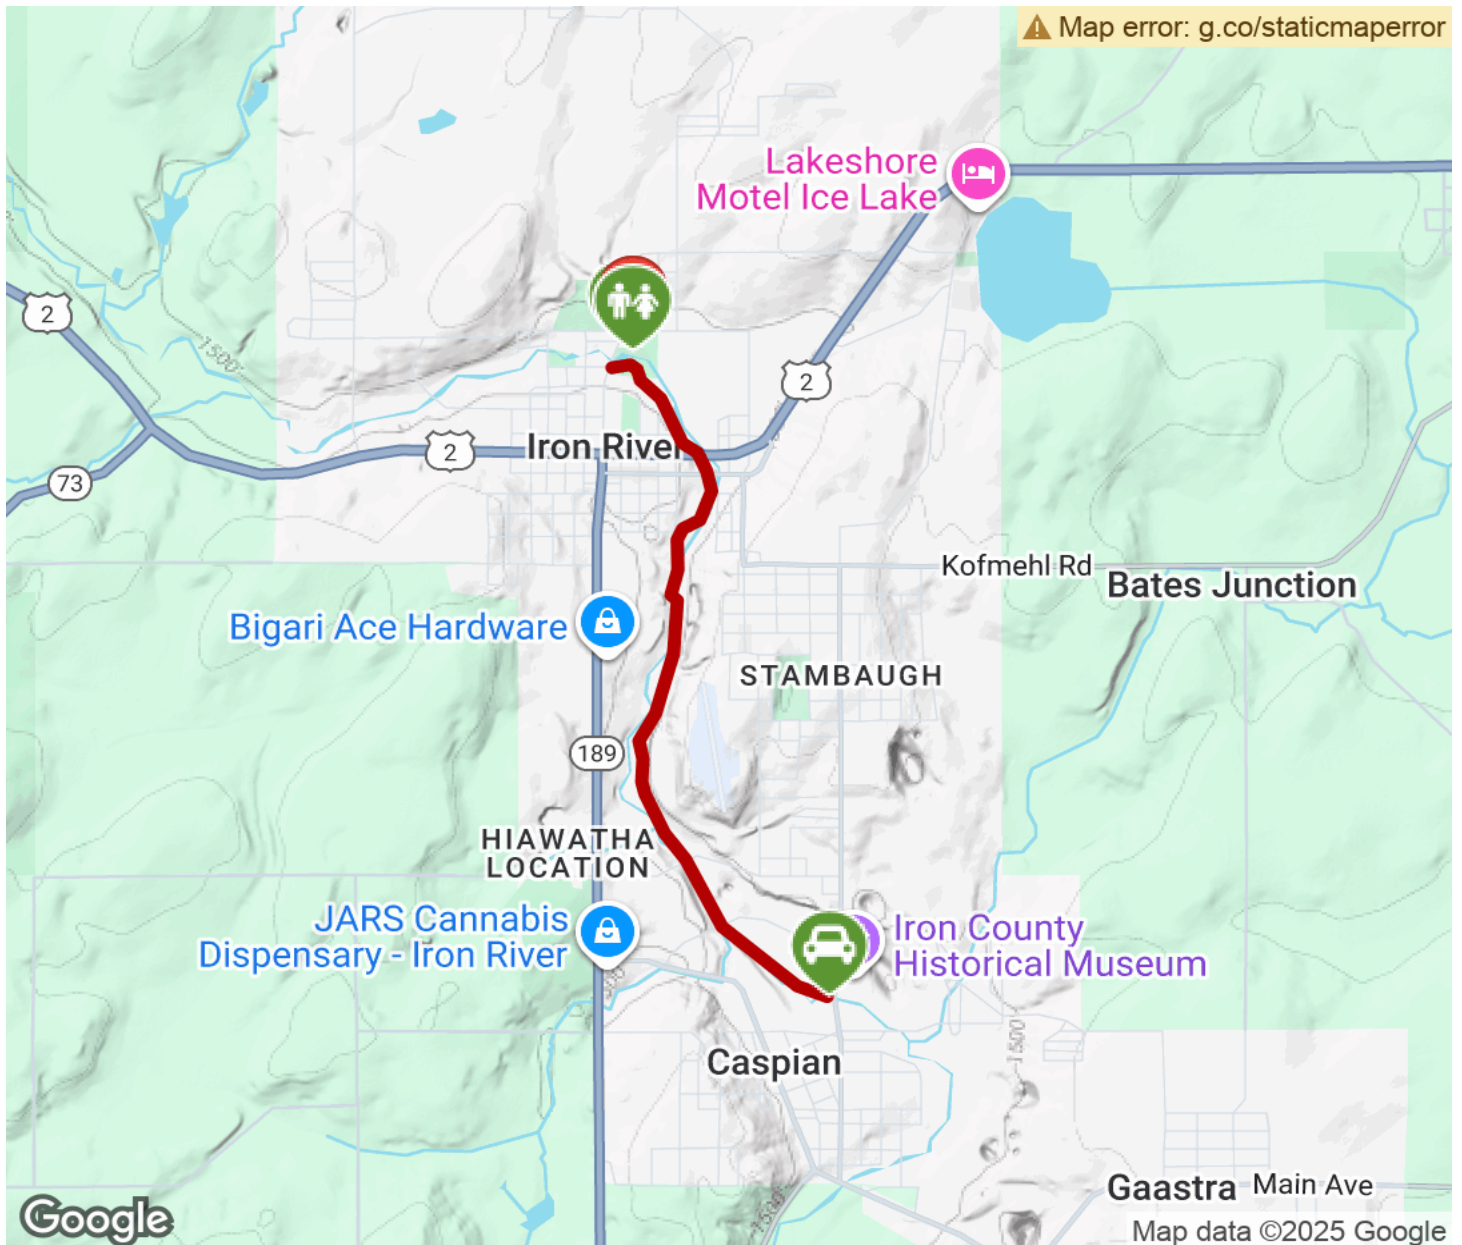

Parking & Trail Access

At its north end, parking is available at Nanaimo Park (900 4th Avenue) in Iron River. Parking is also available at the trail's southern terminus off Brady Avenue in Caspian (across the street from the Iron County Historical Museum).

Apple Blossom Trail

Michigan

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com