

Joseph Plumb Martin Trail

Pennsylvania

The Joseph Plumb Martin Trail offers a pleasant, paved loop through Pennsylvania's Valley Forge National Historical Park.

The Joseph Plumb Martin Trail offers a pleasant, paved loop through Pennsylvania's Valley Forge National Historical Park. Nestled against the wooded Schuylkill River, the park provides a wealth of historical and interpretive sites from the Revolutionary War and is crisscrossed with more than 20 miles of hiking and biking trails (many of which are unpaved) to explore. The trail is named after a soldier who served from 1776 to 1783 and left behind writings of his experience.

Nearby—though separated by the river—lies a section of the Schuylkill River Trail, which winds 27 miles from Valley Forge southeast to Philadelphia. Both the Schuylkill trail and the Joseph Plumb Martin Trail are part of a growing 750-mile trail network in the Philadelphia region called The Circuit Trails.

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com

Joseph Plumb Martin Trail

Pennsylvania

States: Pennsylvania

Counties: Chester

Length: 5.3miles

Trail end points: Valley Forge Park Road to South Outer Line Drive

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike, Wheelchair
Accessible, Walking

Parking & Trail Access

Parking and restrooms are available along the trail throughout Valley Forge National Historical Park (1400 N. Outer Line Dr., King of Prussia).

