

2026

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Tacony- Palmyra Bridge Walkway

New Jersey, Pennsylvania

Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Walkway

New Jersey, Pennsylvania

Linking the communities of Palmyra, New Jersey and Tacony (a historic neighborhood within Philadelphia) is the over 3,600-foot-connect with the Pennypack Trail. In New Jersey, via an on-road route, link to a segment of the Delaware River Heritage Trail (plans call for eventually connecting these two off-road).

Linking the communities of Palmyra, New Jersey and Tacony (a historic neighborhood within Philadelphia) is the over 3,600-foot-long Tacony-Palmyra Bridge. Built between 1928 and 1929 for about $4 million, the bridge is comprised of several different types of structures, including a through-tied arch at the middle, which is also a functioning drawbridge. Cyclists and pedestrians can travel across via the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Walkway, which provides a separate lane separated by wrought iron beams from vehicular traffic and is open 24 hours a day. Enjoy stunning views of the Delaware River on an approximately 20 minute stroll. (Note that cyclists are required to walk bicycles across the span).

In Pennsylvania, the walkway ends at Lardner's Point Park. Via an on-road route, trail users can travel north to

Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Walkway

New Jersey, Pennsylvania

States: New Jersey, Pennsylvania

Counties: Burlington, Philadelphia

Length: 1miles

Trail end points: Lardner's Point Park in Tacony (Philadelphia, PA) to Palmyra (NJ)

Trail surfaces: Concrete

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike, Walking, Wheelchair Accessible

Parking & Trail Access

Parking for the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Walkway is available at Lardner's Point Park in Tacony, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Access the park via Levick Street.

Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Walkway

New Jersey, Pennsylvania

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com