

2026

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Palmer-
Moose Creek
Railroad Trail
Alaska

Palmer-Moose Creek Railroad Trail

Alaska

As its name suggests, the Palmer-Moose Creek Railroad Trail links the small city of Palmer with Moose Creek via an unused railroad return to Palmer the way they came or follow the creek a short distance up to Glenn Highway (State Route 1).

As its name suggests, the Palmer-Moose Creek Railroad Trail links the small city of Palmer with Moose Creek via an unused railroad corridor in Alaska. Extending northward from the heart of Palmer—home of the Alaska State Fair—the rustic rail-trail follows the Matanuska River, offering scenic views throughout.

The northern half of the trail is wedged between tall bluffs and the river, with occasional minor landslides requiring quick repair from local volunteers. Farther south, a dense mix of birch, spruce and cottonwood trees offers ample opportunities for birdwatching and other wildlife encounters. The Chugach Mountains populate the skyline impressively to the south.

The trail dead-ends at Moose Creek, so trail users must

Palmer-Moose Creek Railroad Trail

Alaska

States: Alaska

Counties: Matanuska-Susitna

Length: 6.1miles

Trail end points: Eagle Ave. and Valley Way (Palmer) to Glenn Hwy./SR 1 at Moose Creek (6 miles north of Palmer)

Trail surfaces: Gravel

Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Horseback Riding, Mountain
Biking, Walking, Cross Country Skiing

Parking & Trail Access

Parking for the Palmer-Moose Creek Railroad Trail is available along Eagle Avenue in Palmer. Alternatively, park at the northern trailhead off Glenn Highway at Moose Creek, located approximately 6 miles north of Palmer. From the parking lot, cross the highway and follow the short trail along the creek to the start of the rail-trail.

Palmer-Moose Creek Railroad Trail

Alaska

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com