

2025

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Old Emigration Trail
Utah

Old Emigration Trail

Utah

The Old Emigration Road once ran from Salt Lake City to City of the Rocks, Idaho where it linked to the California Trail. Today, a section over the bridge, turn east at Gentile Street. Trail users may choose to head north again for a final loop around the park.

The Old Emigration Trail is accessible and family-friendly. However, there are a number of on-road crossings that should be approached with caution. This is also not a shady trail, so come prepared with water, a hat or visor, and sunscreen, especially during hotter months.

The Old Emigration Road once ran from Salt Lake City to City of the Rocks, Idaho where it linked to the California Trail. Today, a section of this historic migration route is an off-road, multi-purpose trail connecting West Point to Syracuse. It's also known as the Syracuse or Bluff Trail.

The journey begins at 1300 North in West Point, traveling east. The scenery here mostly comprises residential neighborhoods, opening up into marshes and farmland as one gets further along. The Wasatch Mountains and Antelope Island are observable in the distance. At about the 4.25-mile point, travelers will encounter a junction in the trail at Fremont Park. Here, take the left and follow the signage towards Jensen Park.

At the northern end of Jensen Park, trail users head south

Old Emigration Trail

Utah

States: Utah

Counties: Davis

Length: 7 miles

Trail end points: 1000 West 3700 South (Syracuse) to 1300 North 4100 West (West Point)

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike, Walking, Wheelchair Accessible

Parking & Trail Access

The Jensen Nature Park trailhead is located at 3176 South Bluff Road in Syracuse, Utah. Drive west on Gentile Street in Layton, UT for approximately 4.0 miles. Turn north onto Bluff Road and continue 0.8 miles to Jensen Nature Park on the west side of the road.

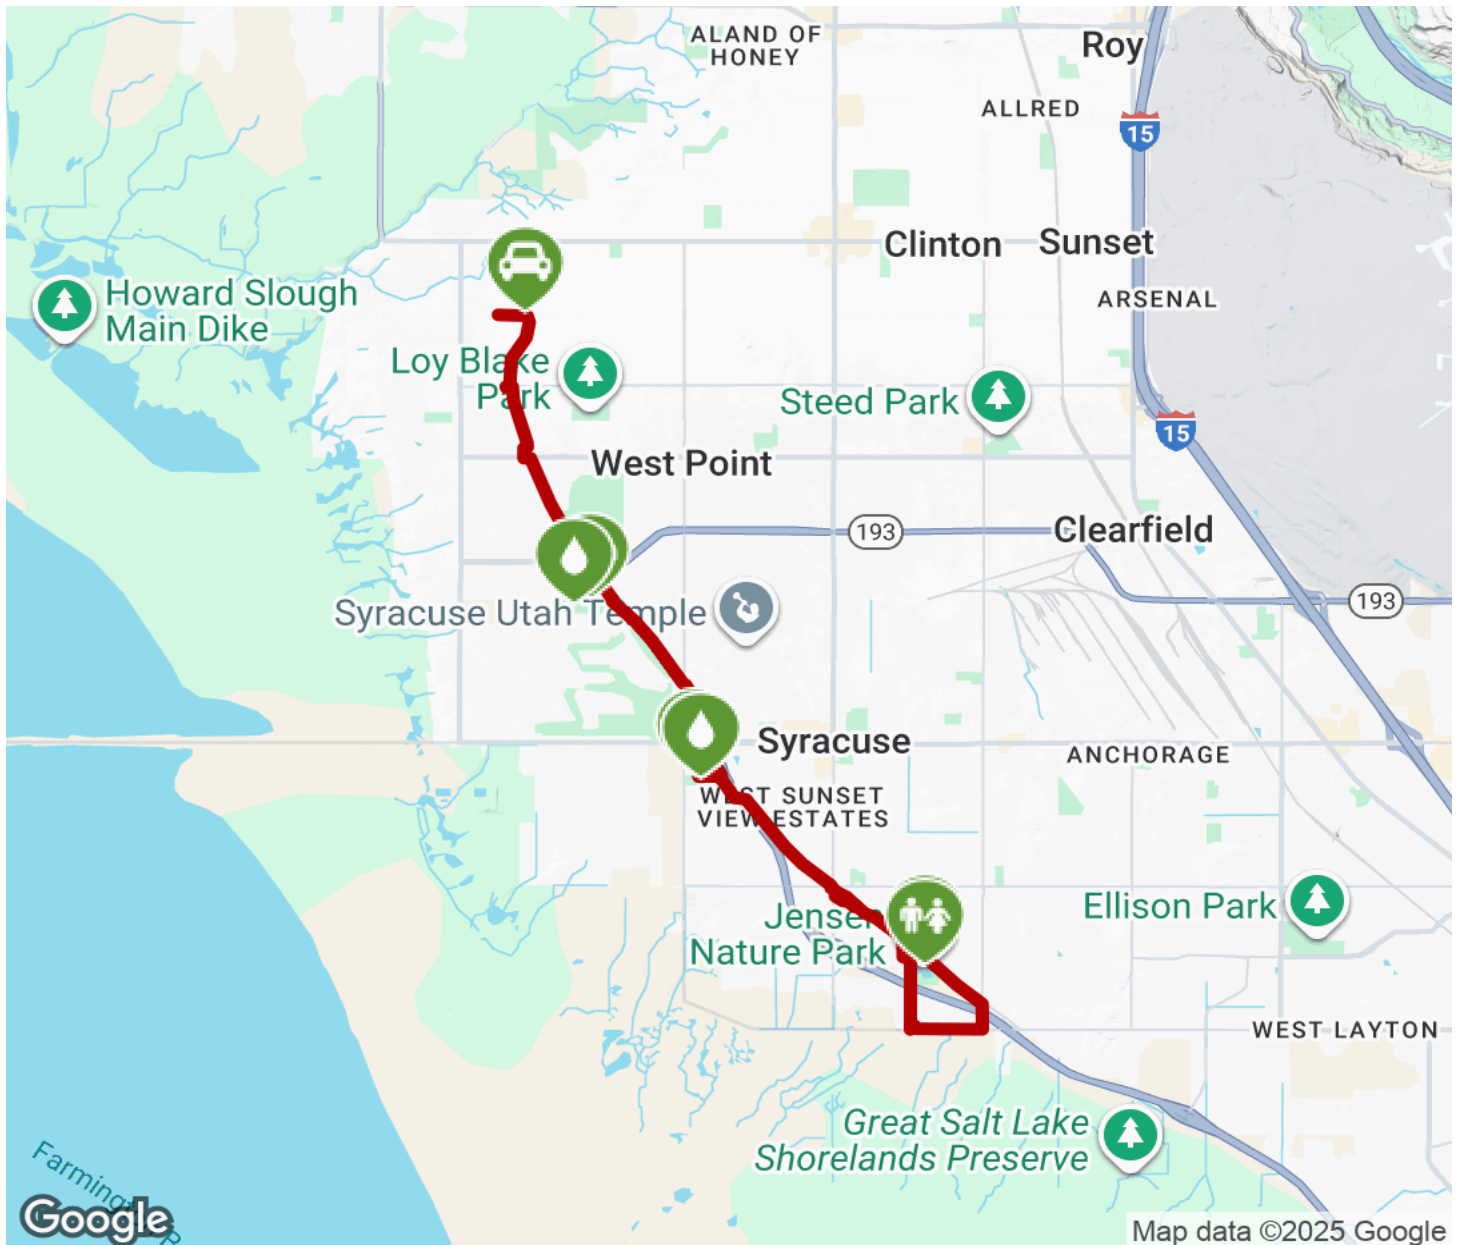

The northern trailhead is located at 4055 W 1300 N in West Point, Utah. There is a small parking lot about 1.1 miles west on 1300 N.

The trail can also be accessed at any of the street crossings along the route.

Old Emigration Trail

Utah

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com