For nearly 9 miles, the Mill Stream Run Reservation All Purpose Trail runs through a wooded park in Berea, a western suburb of Cleveland. Though the trail loosely parallels Valley Parkway, you will feel removed from an urban setting. Along the way, you will find a wildlife area, several picnic areas, an archery range, and several connecting nature trails, including an equestrian trail.

At its northern end, you can easily pick up Rocky River Reservation All-Purpose Trail on the north side of Bagley Road, which continues nearly 14 miles northward along valley parkway. At its southern end, the Brecksville Reservation All-Purpose Trail continues southbound for another 12 miles south east along this same wooded stream valley.
