The Stadium Greenway is a short but popular paved pathway in the heart of Greenville. It runs through the East Carolina University campus along the Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium from which the trail gets its name. On its east end, the trail also meets Elmhurst Elementary School, offering a safer transportation route for younger students as well.

At Charles Boulevard, on the trail's west end, travelers can connect to the Green Mill Run Greenway to continue their journey through the city.
