

2026

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Meg Jorn Trail

Texas

Meg Jorn Trail

Texas

The Meg Jorn Trail runs north-south through Harlingen, connecting several neighborhoods and important destinations in Trail, but was renamed in 2018 to honor Meg Jorn, a Harlingen architect and avid runner/cyclist.

The Meg Jorn Trail runs north-south through Harlingen, connecting several neighborhoods and important destinations in the city, such as Bonham Elementary School. Its northern tip ends close to Texas State Technical College and Valley International Airport.

Running parallel to a canal for much of the way, the paved pathway also offers opportunities for a nature escape in the city and a great spot for birdwatching. Another outdoor asset along the route is the Hugh Ramsey Nature Park at the trail's southern end. The park is home to the Arroyo Colorado Birding Center as the Rio Grande Valley is known as an international birding destination with more than 500 species of birds observed in the area.

The trail opened in 2015 as the 25th Street Hike and Bike

Meg Jorn Trail

Texas

States: Texas

Counties: Cameron

Length: 4.1miles

Trail end points: Hugh Ramsey Nature Park to Rio Hondo Rd.

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike, Inline

Skating, Walking, Wheelchair Accessible

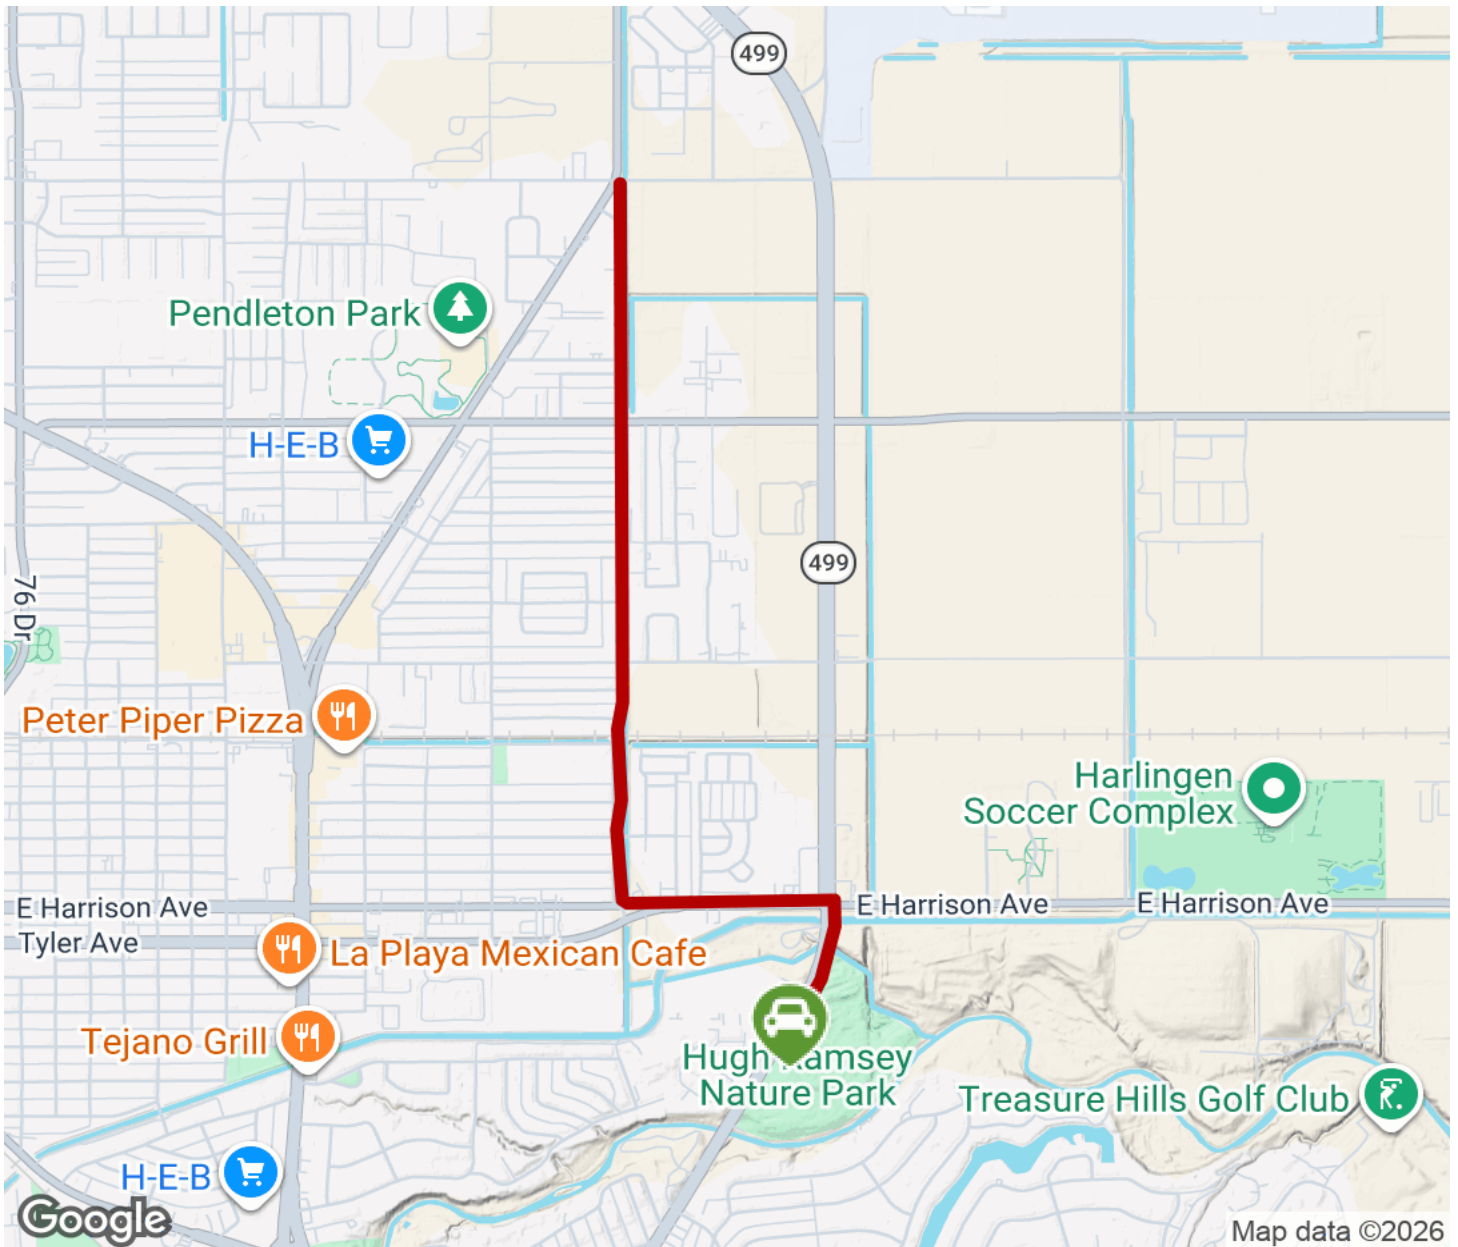

Parking & Trail Access

Parking is available at the southern in of the trail in the Hugh Ramsey Nature Park (1000 TX-499 Loop).

Meg Jorn Trail

Texas

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com