Annie Jones Greenway provides a natural escape in the middle of the city. The trail goes through woods, and past streams for a short, though serene journey. The trail begins on SW Cary Parkway and travels north before it forks into east and west branches. The west branch leads to the Scottish Hills Recreation Club and Annie Jones Park. The segment of the trail from Annie Jones to its emergence point at McCloud St. is unpaved. The rest of the trail is asphalt. The eastern branch travels through the wooded corridor to Gatehouse Drive.
