

2024

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Delaware River Trail
Pennsylvania

Delaware River Trail

Pennsylvania

The Delaware River Trail hugs the Philadelphia waterfront proving access to parks and recreational amenities. It's part of a larger entertainment options in the summer. The Independence Seaport Museum is also accessible from the trail and offers interactive exhibits about American shipbuilding and the development of the U.S. navy.

A short section of the trail begins north of the Ben Franklin Bridge near the intersection of Spring Garden Street and Delaware Avenue. From there it heads north up to Ellen Street and Sugarhouse Drive.

The Delaware River Trail hugs the Philadelphia waterfront proving access to parks and recreational amenities. It's part of a larger effort called The Circuit, which will link 750 miles of trail throughout Greater Philadelphia.

The trail is currently open in two disconnected sections with the larger of the two beginning south of the Ben Franklin Bridge near the Penn's Landing Dog Park. From there, the paved pathway continues south towards the Pier 70 shopping center, loosely paralleling Christopher Columbus Boulevard. Many of the piers along the way have restaurants and other fun attractions.

A highlight is the Spruce Street Harbor Park in Penn's Landing, which has a lively atmosphere and

Delaware River Trail

Pennsylvania

States: Pennsylvania

Counties: Philadelphia

Length: 2.1miles

Trail end points: Pier 70 Blvd. to Ellen St. and Sugarhouse Dr.

Trail surfaces: Asphalt,Brick

Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT

Trail activities: Bike,Inline

Skating,Wheelchair Accessible,Walking

Parking & Trail Access

Parking is available across from Pier 68 at the southern end of the trail, as well as at Penn's Landing at the end of Market Street.

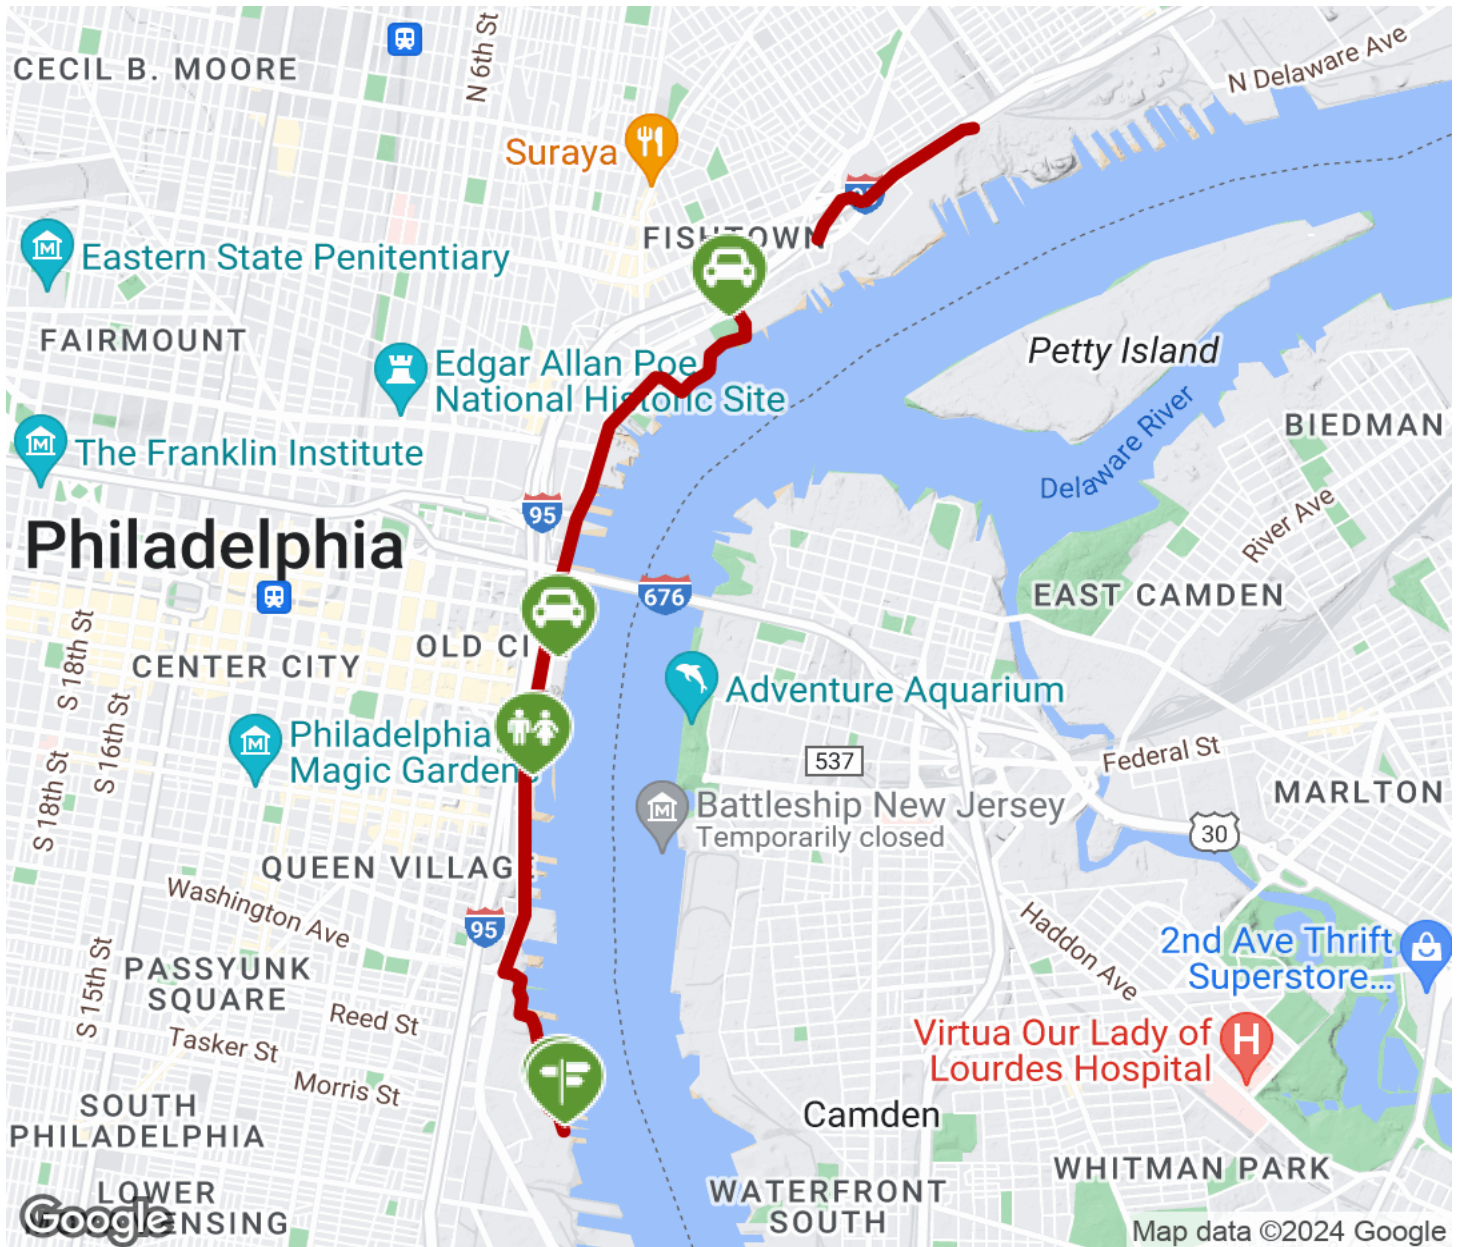

To take public transportation to the Delaware River Trail:

- Ride the SEPTA's Market-Frankford Line to the 2nd Street Station. From the station, walk about three blocks east along Market Street toward the waterfront to reach the larger section of the trail.
- To reach the short, northern section of the trail, you can get off at SEPTA's Spring Garden Station (600 N. Front Street), which is on the Market-Frankford Line, and walk about 3 blocks east to the trail.

Delaware River Trail

Pennsylvania

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com