Yakima's Powerhouse Canal Pathway begins in Chesterley Park, where you'll find soccer fields, a skate park and picnic shelters with grills. From there, the paved trail heads southeast along the canal soon passing Robertson Elementary School, providing a safe walking and biking route for young students. Just past the school, there's a short break in the trail at W. Lincoln Avenue, which can be bridged with travel along the sidewalk. After the gap, the trail swings northeast to McGuinness Park, which offers a playground, basketball court and more picnic tables.
