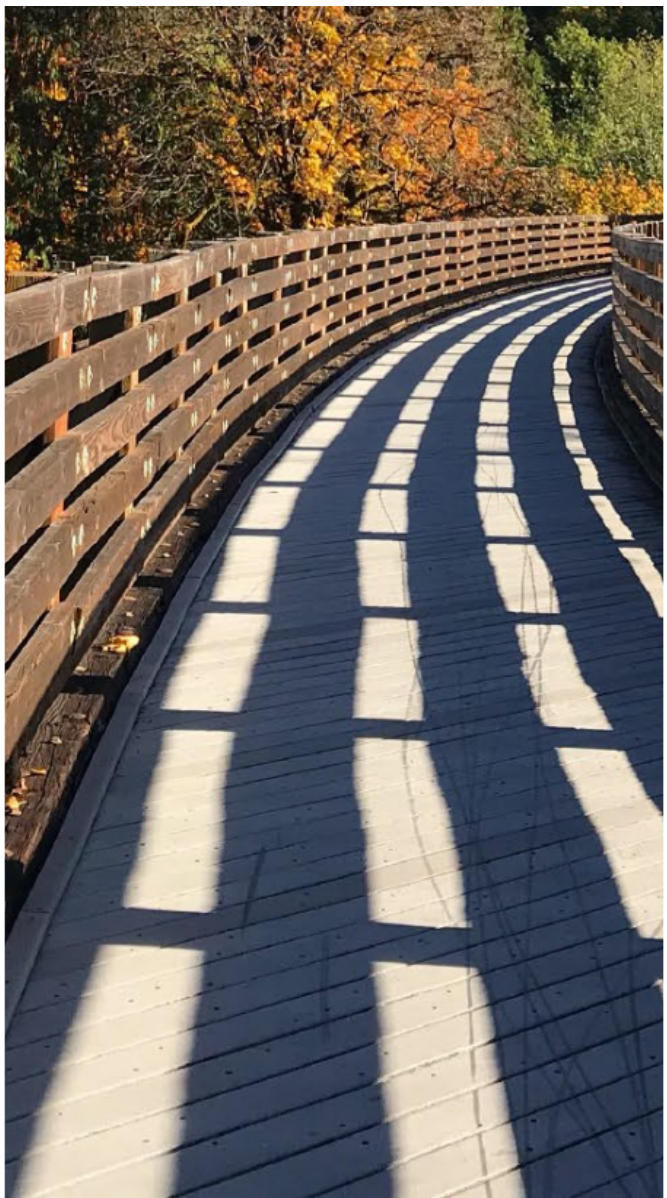
TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

2025

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides



Proctor Creek Greenway

Georgia

Proctor Creek Greenway

Georgia

The Proctor Creek Greenway stretches nearly 3 miles in northwestern Atlanta, surrounded by the neighborhoods of

The Proctor Creek Greenway stretches nearly 3 miles in northwestern Atlanta, surrounded by the neighborhoods of Bankhead, Grove Park, Rockdale and West Highlands.

About the Route

Near the trail's southern end is Maddox Park, one of the oldest parks in the city, which offers a pool and athletic facilities. From the trail's beginning adjacent to the park and Bankhead Station, which serves MARTA's Green Line, the paved Proctor Creek Greenway winds northwest along the waterway, largely through a tree-lined corridor and the developing Westside Reservoir Park. When complete, the park will be one of Atlanta's largest and will surround a former granite quarry. After crossing Johnson Road NW, the trail passes an elementary school and reaches its northern end shortly thereafter near Heman E. Perry Park.

Proctor Creek Greenway

Georgia

States: Georgia
Counties: Fulton
Length: 2.9miles
Trail end points: US 78 (Atlanta) to Drew Dr. (Atlanta)
Trail surfaces: Concrete
Trail category: Greenway/Non-RT
Trail activities: Bike,Inline Skating,Walking,Wheelchair Accessible

Parking & Trail Access

The Proctor Creek Greenway runs between US 78 (Atlanta) and Drew Dr. (Atlanta).

Parking is available at:

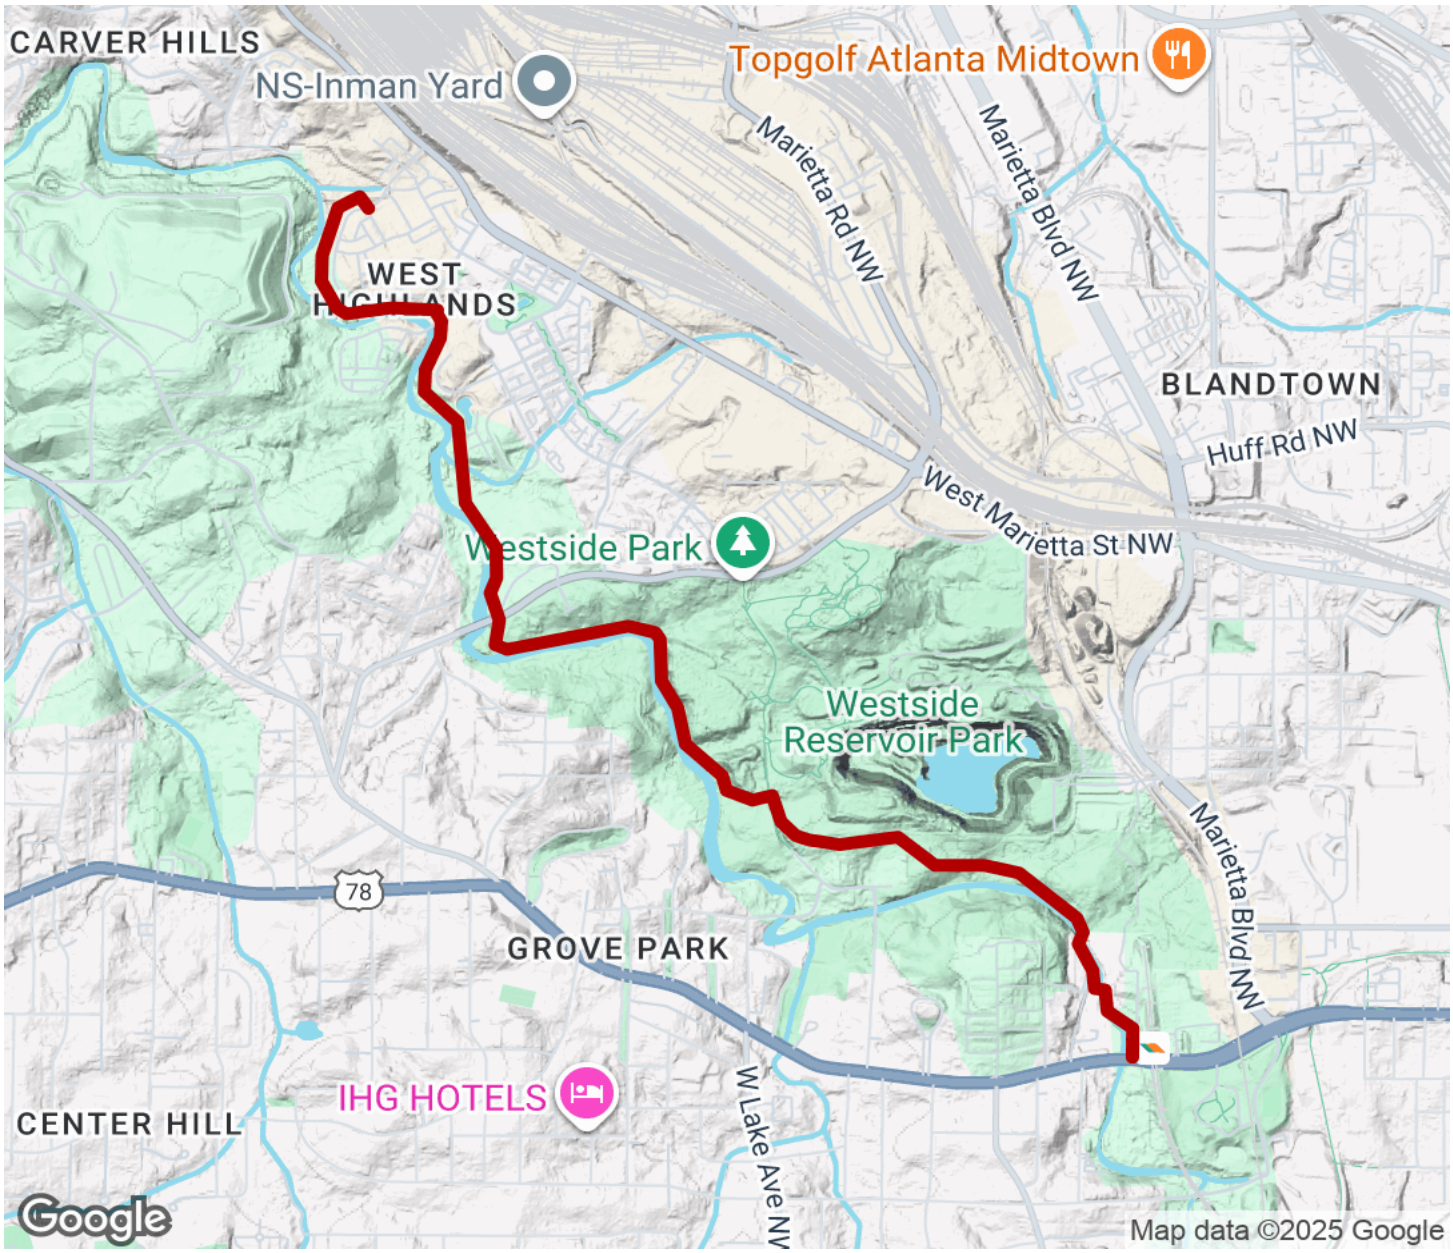
- Maddox Park, 1115 Donald Lee Hollowell Parkway NW (Atlanta)

Trail access is also available via. nearby MARTA public transportion.

Please see TrailLink Map for all parking options and detailed directions.

Proctor Creek Greenway

Georgia



Trailhead Restroom Parking Water Fountain Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com