

2024

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Woolly Bear Parkway Trail

Indiana

Woolly Bear Parkway Trail

Indiana

The Woolly Bear Parkway Trail is on the former Pennsylvania rail corridor that starts in Kennard and extends west for 1.4 miles. The

The Woolly Bear Parkway Trail is on the former Pennsylvania rail corridor that starts in Kennard and extends west for 1.4 miles. The rustic trail is mostly grass with a gravel base, and lined with trees and other vegetation that make it both a serene escape for trail users and a theater for birds, deer and other wildlife, including the caterpillar that gives the trail its name. The trail is maintained by Healthy Communities of Henry County, a non-profit volunteer-led organization.

Woolly Bear Parkway Trail

Indiana

States: Indiana

Counties: Henry

Length: 1.4miles

Trail end points: Railroad Street (Kennard) to
.25 mile west of Grant City Road

Trail surfaces: Grass,Gravel

Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Bike,Mountain

Biking,Walking,Cross Country Skiing

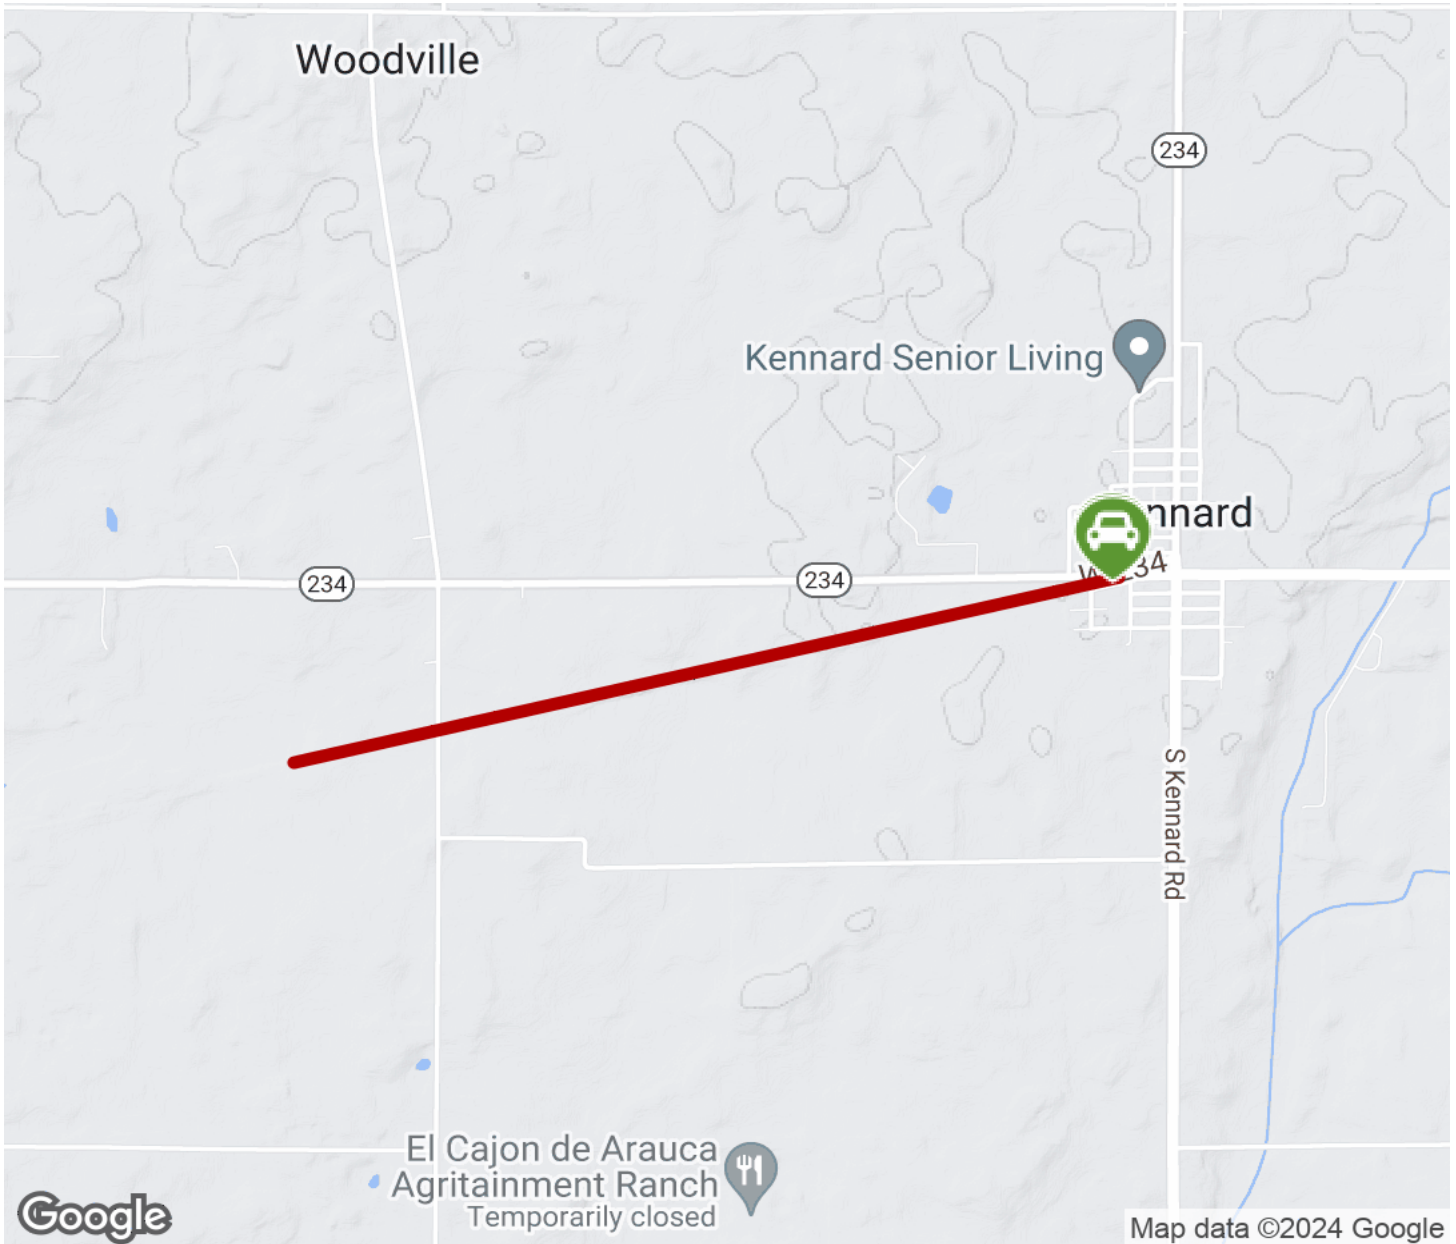

Parking & Trail Access

There is a small trailhead along Railroad Street in Kennard. The trailhead includes a small vehicle parking area, bike parking, benches and signage. The trail begins in an open grassy area but soon becomes shrouded with trees on either side. There are mile markers placed at half-mile intervals.

Woolly Bear Parkway Trail

Indiana

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com