Running through the Meadow Park neighborhood in southern Rochester, the Meadow Park Bike Path provides a convenient connection for residents of the nearby neighborhoods to reach popular local parks and shops by foot or by bike. The northeastern end of the trail begins at a junction with the tranquil Bear Creek Trail, for those looking for some natural scenery, while the southern end of the trail sheds the forests and creeks for a series of suburban strip malls. While not always much to look at, this smooth asphalt path is ideal for quick jogs and rides.
