The Brays Bayou Connector Trail provides a useful link for cyclists and pedestrians between Arthur Storey Park (and the adjacent Brays Bayou waterway) and the Westchase neighborhood and business district. A looping trail surrounds the park grounds on the southern end of the route, while the remainder of the trail follows a linear path to the north, with a series of road underpasses helping trail users avoid dangerous crossings.

At the northern end of the trail, the Library Loop Trail provides a means to extend your trail journey, with additional pathways connecting to the educational campuses within the community. Long-term plans include extending the Brays Bayou Greenway Trail to provide a seamless connection within Arthur Storey Park.
