Prospect Heights has very few sidewalks, so biking, inline skating or walking are moved to the streets or in the parks. Don't underestimate the Prospect Heights Bike Path which is over four miles of asphalt with several areas of natural prairie habitat. It begins across the street from the Prospect Heights Metra station at Wolf and Camp McDonald Road and follows the Com Ed power line easement to Schoenbeck Road. You can add nearly two miles if you continue to Lake Arlington. Get outside and experience the off-road route through nature.
