The Duluth Lakewalk extends between Canal Park and S. 60th Avenue E. near University Park. The southern half of the trail

Russia and Japan.

Public restrooms are located near the lake just west of the city mural and at the Rose Garden parking lot.

The Duluth Lakewalk extends between Canal Park and S. 60th Avenue E. near University Park. The southern half of the trail follows the shore of Lake Superior quite closely from the south end to 26th Avenue, where it then veers inland a few blocks, carrying on north to parallel London Road. At N. 40th Avenue E. the trail continues along a northeast-southwest route, paralleling Superior Street to trail's end at 60th Avenue.

Lake Superior shimmers next to the path and you can watch numerous ships and small craft in the port. The trail offers access to the Convention Center complex, Great Lakes Aquarium and the Bayfront Festival Park.

At the Canal Park end you'll see the lift bridge and sculptures depicting Duluth's sister cities in Sweden,
