The Alborn-Pengilly Trail runs for 42 miles along a former railroad corridor between Pengilly and Alborn. The easy terrain is a mix of woodland, lakes and wetlands, open space, and the occasional cultivated field. It passes through the small community of Meadowlands and the even smaller communities of Prosit, Silica, and Elmer. Food is available at both end points and in Meadowlands and Silica.

The trail is open to ATVs between April 1 to November 30. In winter, the trail gets used by snowmobilers.
