

2024

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

Elk River Trail (Coonskin Park)

West Virginia

Elk River Trail (Coonskin Park)

West Virginia

Kanawha County's Elk River Trail provides access to Coonskin Park, a large park originally built by local residents in the 1950s swimming pool, tennis and volleyball courts, hiking trails and picnic shelters, all nestled within more than a thousand acres of woodlands.

Kanawha County's Elk River Trail provides access to Coonskin Park, a large park originally built by local residents in the 1950s and now managed by the Kanawha County Parks and Recreation Commission. Thick greenery screens trail users from the river.

On the trail's eastern side, Charleston's Yeager Airport is hidden from view by a substantial elevation change typical of the scenic region's topography. Case in point: there is a steep grade where the trail leaves a former rail corridor. While the majority of the Elk River Trail is not a rail-trail, a short section runs parallel to an out-of-service rail line, making it a very short rail-with-trail.

At the trail's northern end, Coonskin Park offers a playground, golf course, amphitheater, soccer stadium,

Elk River Trail (Coonskin Park)

West Virginia

States: West Virginia

Counties: Kanawha

Length: 1.5miles

Trail end points: Coonskin Park to Barlow Drive

Trail surfaces: Gravel

Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Fishing, Horseback Riding, Mountain Biking, Walking, Cross Country Skiing

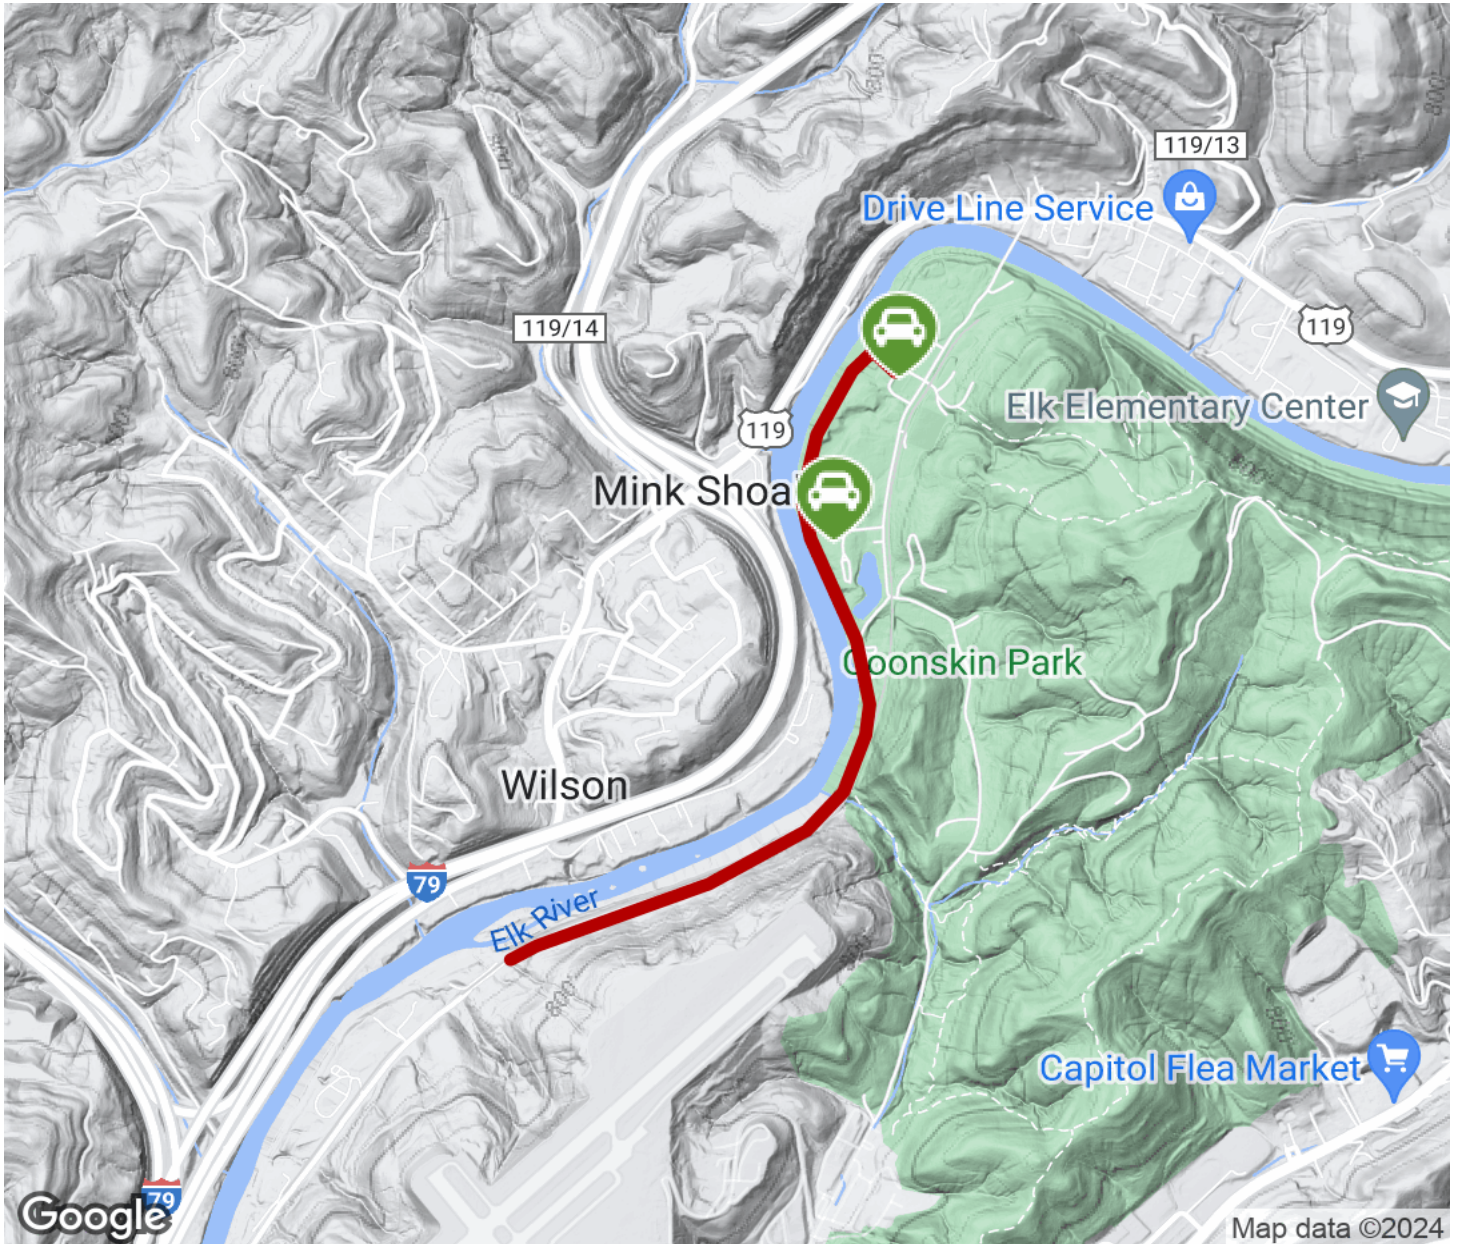

Parking & Trail Access

Parking for the Elk River Trail is available in Coonskin Park at the Riverside Pavilion. A sign along Coonskin Drive will direct you to turn left to access the trail and parking just south of J.W. Herscher Lake.

Elk River Trail (Coonskin Park)

West Virginia

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com