The Skunk Creek Trail runs along the banks of its namesake waterway, connecting Peoria, Glendale and the eastern edge of Phoenix. The trail provides a link to residences, businesses and parks, as well as two recreation centers: Peoria's Rio Vista Community Park and Recreation Center and Glendale's Foothills Recreation and Aquatics Center.

At its southern end in Rio Vista Community Park, the Skunk Creek Trail merges into the New River Trail, while a connection to the longer Arizona Canal Path can be made just north of the park.
