

2024

TrailLink Unlimited

Guides

District Trail

New Mexico

District Trail

New Mexico

The District Trail is a straight, paved path following the alignment of the old New Mexico Central Railroad (1903-1926) from Richards

The District Trail is a straight, paved path following the alignment of the old New Mexico Central Railroad (1903-1926) from Richards Ave. at Ave. del Sur to south of A Van Nu Po, near Institute of American Indian Arts (IAIA). It is part of a larger network of Rancho Viejo Trails that connects to nearby residences as well as the Amy Biehl School and IAIA. Though having to crossing streets a few times, the trail for the most part steers clear of the main roads. Also connected to this trail, along with Rancho Viejo Trail, is the Spur Trail. As its name suggest, the 3-mile spur connects this community directly to the 17-mile Santa Fe Rail Trail and onward into other areas of Santa Fe.

District Trail

New Mexico

States: New Mexico

Counties: Santa Fe

Length: 1.4miles

Trail end points: Richards Ave. to Santa Fe
Community College

Trail surfaces: Asphalt

Trail category: Rail-Trail

Trail activities: Bike, Walking

Parking & Trail Access

District Trail

New Mexico

Trailhead

Restroom

Parking

Water Fountain

Tunnel

TrailLink
by Rails-to-Trails Conservancy

TrailLink.com