The Incline Village Bike Path consists of several paved trails alongside local roads in scenic Incline Village, Nevada. The community, resting on the northern shore of majestic Lake Tahoe, is well known for its picturesque environs, affluent population and Diamond Peak Ski Resort in the northeastern part of town.

The system provides access to shops, residences, Incline High School and Sierra Nevada College, making it a valuable amenity for residents and visitors of all ages. The most traveled stretch of trail runs along Lakeshore Boulevard just north of the Lake Tahoe shoreline. This 2.5-mile route is commonly known as the "jogger's trail" due to its suitability and popularity for that type of exercise.
